Stevenson Asks New Illinois Constitution

Will Not Ask More Taxes Right Away

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Taking office as Illinois 31st governor, Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson today called for broad reforms and "a government consecrated to plain talk, hard work and prairie horse sense."

He urged the politically-split legislature to help him and five other newly inaugurated Democratic officers "put our house in order" and avoid "indecision and corruption."

He said he will "show no reluctance to break boldly with the complacent, quiet past" to give eight million Illinoisans "thrifty, efficient, honest government."

Replace Basic Law

As the master key for sweeping changes, he strongly urged a new constitution to replace the 1870 basic law. He said it is "a road block to better government."

The 48 year old diplomat, lawyer and gentleman farmer was sworn in during colorful ceremonies witnessed by more than 6,000 at the state armory across the street from the high-domed Capitol.

He is a grandson of a vice president, son of an Illinois secretary of state, and the fifth democrat since the civil war to occupy the executive mansion.

He declared that "only performance will count." He asked for an end to "mere partisan struggle for advantage," and for a united effort to produce a model government featured by these immediate steps:

End Spoils System

1. Removal of many state workers from the patronage spoils system and payment of higher salaries to get better men for key jobs.

2. Merger of mental hospital and public pension programs, and easing of the heavy patient load at hospitals by releasing many of the 40,000 wards to home care.

3. Immediate increases in old age pensions and unemployment compensation ceilings, and eventual abolition of pension maximums.

4. "Relaxation of restrictions" on state aid to cities and other "well-organized" local government units administering schools, roads and other local services.

He gave no specific plan on this, but he wants no feast or "frills" in the statehouse when there is "famine" in the courthouses and city halls.

Illinois Well Off

Stevenson proposed no additional taxes and said the state appears to be well off financially.

But he noted that despite more than a hundred million dollars in the unencumbered cash box, the state has a bonded debt of nearly half a billion dollars. And in addition, he said:

"Instead of an opportunity to accumulate excess revenues we now have an accumulation of imperative demands for capital improvements, and services at greatly increased cost."

As a result, he said, "we may well face acute difficulties" in the last two years if not the first two years of his four year term.

"Before imposing additional state taxes, it is our obligation to enforce completely and effectively those we already have," his message said.

New Taxes If Needed

Nevertheless, he explained to a reporter, "I certainly won't hesitate to recommend new taxes if they're needed."

As an example, he mentioned a legislative proposal to boost the three cent a gallon gasoline tax to five cents to finance a long range highway improvement program.

He is expected to outline details of his spending program in a budget message to be submitted after March 1.

Democratic legislators even before Stevenson began his message, got the ball rolling on his plea for a 1950 vote by the people on whether to call a constitutional convention.

Name F. J. Lunding Director Of U.S. Bank In Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Franklin J. Lunding, 42, of suburban Highland Park, Ill., president of the Jewel Tea company, has been named a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

His appointment is for a three-year term, effective as of Jan. 1, according to the board of governors of the federal reserve system.

Lunding was designated deputy chairman of the board for 1948.

A native of Hope, N.D., Lunding attended the University of North Dakota and received his law degree from George Washington University law school in 1929.

A former attorney for the federal trade commission, he has been president of Jewel Tea, Barrington, Ill., since 1942.

Refuse To Halt Trial Of 12 Top Communists

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to halt the impending trial of 12 top communist party officials on charges of conspiring to advocate overthrow of the government.

The 12 men are members of the national committee of the communist party of the United States. They face trial beginning in New York federal court next Monday.

They asked the high court last Friday to step in and cancel their indictments because they declared they are to be tried before "a veritable conviction machine."

They charged also that Judge Harold R. Medina, assigned to preside, is biased and prejudiced against them.

The Supreme Court, acting only three days after the appeal was filed, dismissed both contentions without comment in its routine order.

The party officials, in addition to asking that their indictments be voided and the trial stayed, sought to have the jury panel thrown out because they said manual workers, the unemployed, negroes and members of low-income groups were deliberately excluded.

This was in effect an attack on New York's "Blue Ribbon" jury system, which the Supreme Court upheld in a 5-4 decision handed down June 22, 1947.

The Supreme Court handed down no opinions today. Its only actions were orders agreeing or declining to review appeals.

In other actions, the court: (1) Declined to consider an appeal on validity of a section of the Taft-Hartley act which frees employers from a legal obligation to bargain collectively with foremen.

The refusal has the effect of upholding the action of the U.S. Circuit Court at Cincinnati which held that congress "intended that employers be free in the future to interfere with their (foremen's) union activities."

(2) Dismissed an appeal attacking validity of Tennessee's anti-cholesterol law. The dismissal was requested by an AFL Teamsters' Union local following last week's Supreme Court action upholding similar laws in Arizona, Nebraska and North Carolina.

One of the indictments against the communist party officials charges them with conspiracy to organize the party, an organization allegedly advocating overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Other indictments charged the individuals with being members of the party. All were returned by a special grand jury last July 20. All the men have pleaded innocent.

They are William Z. Foster, Eugene Dennis, John B. Williamson, Jacob Stachel, Robert G. Thompson, Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Henry Winston, John Gates, Irving Potash, Gilbert Green, Carl Winter and Gus Hall.

Other officers elected were Carl E. Bostrom, assistant secretary of Lowell-Holt and Company, Chicago, first vice president; and Sylvester J. Myers, vice president of the Arcady Farms Milling Company, Chicago, second vice president.

New directors named to three-year terms are:

Homer Hargrave of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane, investment brokers; John R. Murray, Quaker Oats Company; William F. Rowley, Daniel F. Rice and Company; Thomas A. Lison, independent member; and John E. Brennan, John E. Brennan Company.

All are of Chicago.

Truman Asks Quick Action On Federal Employees Raise

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Truman asked congress today for quick action to boost top-level government salaries.

Legislation favored by the president would hike executive salaries from their present $10,000-$15,000 brackets to new $17,500-$25,000 levels.

Mr. Truman wrote Senator McClellan (D-Tenn.), Senate president pro tempore, declaring that action is needed because business is out-bidding the government for the services of "able men."

The lack of adequate talent, he said, is "a serious threat to the efficiency of government."

While the chief executive made no mention of his own salary, the Senate Republican policy committee agreed today to go along on a bill to increase the pay of both the president and vice president-elect Alben Barkley.

Margin of speed of the single-senate fighter over the bomber in World War I was approximately 50 per cent.

$320 Of U.S. Budget Will Buy Horseshoes For Indians

By Arthur Edson
Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Truman sent his budget up to congress today, and a whopper it is, too.

Adding two and two together, Mr. Truman concludes it will cost this country $41,858,000,000 to do business during the next fiscal year.

It takes him 1,628 figure-filled pages, in a book weighing more than six pounds, to tell why.

Let's start out on the pleasant side. Let's consider various little economies the government will try.

Take Mr. Truman himself. Last year he had an expert on social forms, customs and practices (at $4,902 a year). Also a social secretary (at $4,415 a year). Also an assistant to the chief usher (at $4,275).

Mr. Truman has managed to struggle along without these this year, and he figures by cutting corners he won't need them next year either.

But the White House is a big place, a business office as well as a residence. And by the time Mr. T. has passed out raises to people who are up for raises, his budget looks like about everyone's budget these days.

The 1950 estimate for the White

House: $1,269,000, compared with $1,085,208 for this year.

But you are wondering: Where does this $41,858,000,000 go? And that's a good question.

It goes for such things as an army, navy, veterans' pensions.

Part of it goes to the Atomic Energy Commission, to pay for the chief of its beryllium branch. To the Smithsonian Institution, for a couple of astrophysicists. To the Maritime Commission, for two vessel disposal analysts. To the public health service, for a nutritionist.

Furthermore, the agriculture department needs $601,600 to try to tame the gypsy moth. It also wants two airplanes, but it doesn't say whether it plans to chase moths in them.

The supreme court has asked for $150, to pay for having the snow shoveled off the front walks.

Fulfilling a batch of treaties starting back in 1805, we are, as usual, paying the Choctaw Indians $600 for a blacksmith. And since a horseshoe without horseshoes is valueless, I don't think you can quarrel with the $320 item for the purchase of steel and iron.

Happy horseshoeing, Choctaw!

Bill To Finance Private Industry Given To Congress

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A sweeping proposal for government financing of private industry to maintain high economic levels was contained in a bill given today to congress.

It would be financed by a $15,000,000 fund, to be administered by the reconstruction finance corporation to bolster lagging industry and maintain levels of production called for in President Truman's economic report.

As a far-reaching alternative to private industrial borrowing, federal loans could be made to states or regional agencies so they could set up and operate their own industrial enterprises.

In this respect, the bill was one response to Mr. Truman's suggestion in his state of the union message that the government might go into the steel business if private industry failed to meet the demand.

The proposal, entitled "the full employment act of 1950," was presented simultaneously in the Senate and House by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) and Senators Murray (D-Mont.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.).

Commiss Report Trapped Suchow Army Annihilated

Nanking, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Chinese communist troops today were crushing with smashing attacks a government island of resistance north of Nanking which is delaying the Red push to the Yangtze.

(The communist radio said remnants of the nationalist force—which is estimated at 130,000 men—the day before—was "completely wiped out" by 10 o'clock this morning Chinese time.)

Plots returning from the front described the fighting as the "hottest we have seen any time in China." Smoke from intensive artillery firing hung over the battlefield.

These forces of Gen. Tu Li-Ming numbered possibly 250,000 when they defied the former base of Suchow. They were trapped about 150 miles northwest of Nanking in a pocket three miles long and a mile and a half wide. Steady attrition has caused them heavy losses since encirclement.

Government planes were requested from the ground to make no more supply drops because the remnants are so tightly compressed, reports reaching Nanking said.

The capture of Tu's forces, with their great stores of munitions and modern equipment, will make powerful Red forces available for the expected drive to the Yangtze, the last barrier before Nanking.

Couple Reconciled After Honeymoon Financed By Judge

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A couple who had been on the verge of divorce reported to the superior court today their belated honeymoon, financed by the judge, was a success.

While Rose and Erwin Weidmann talked with Judge Julius J. Hoffman in chambers, their attorney had Mrs. Weidmann's divorce suit dismissed.

Their five-year marriage was saved when Judge Hoffman suggested on Dec. 28 that they take the wedding trip they had no time to enjoy when they were married July 3, 1943. He offered to pay their expenses for a week at a resort near Pawtucket, Wis.

The Weidmanns reported they reached the lodge in time to celebrate New Year's Eve. They spent the week tobogganing, skating, swimming and dancing. Mrs. Weidmann was a jitter-bugging contest.

The Weidmanns' two children, Godfrey, four, and Erwin, Jr., one, stayed with relatives while their parents were away.

Move To Tighten Rules On Senate Filibustering

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The administration moved today to tighten up rules by which Senate filibusters can be shut off, presumably as a prelude to seeking passage of civil rights legislation.

Republican leaders of Kentucky, serving as Democratic floor leaders until he is sworn in as vice-president Jan. 20, announced he has urged the rules committee to approve as soon as possible an anti-filibuster proposal.

Any such measure coming to the floor would touch off a bitter and prolonged fight.

Southerners in the past have always used their privilege of non-stop debate to defeat civil rights bills.

Barkley told his colleagues he is opposed to the filibuster as a tactic and wants a prompt change in the Senate rules.

He said he has talked with chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the rules committee "on bringing out a bill on changing the rules as soon as possible."

A number of southern Democrats made immediate plans to combat any such proposal.

Indict Rutledge For First Degree Murder In Iowa

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Jan. 10.—(AP)—A Lyn county grand jury late today returned a first degree murder indictment against Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, 27-year-old St. Louis pediatrician.

Dr. Rutledge is accused of stabbing Byron C. Hattman, St. Louis aircraft engineer, to death during a fight in a Cedar Rapids hotel room Dec. 14. He currently is free on $5,000 bond.

After the indictment was returned about 5:30 p.m. (CST), District Judge J. E. Heiserman issued a bench warrant for Dr. Rutledge's arrest. Judge Heiserman specifically stated that no bond was to be granted after Dr. Rutledge was arrested under the warrant.

Lynn County Attorney William Crissman said he would go to Des Moines tomorrow to obtain Gov. Robert D. Blue's signature on new extradition papers.

1950 Budget Is Peacetime High At $41,858,000,000

Half Will Be Used To Stem Red Tide

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Truman told Congress today it will take at least $41,858,000,000 to run the government right next year—half of it to hold back the Communist tide.

Republicans immediately demanded deep slashes and party lines quickly formed for the big tests ahead.

Mr. Truman's budget covering the 1950 fiscal year beginning next July 1 is peacetime's biggest—$1,678,000,000 larger than this year.

For the cold war with Russia he asked the most powerful military forces the country has ever had outside a war—and funds to bolster allied nations against the red surge.

Ask More Later
Moreover, Mr. Truman served notice he will ask more funds later to supply arms to non-communist nations, a step which will push the budget even higher.

All told Mr. Truman asked for a tax increase of nearly $6,000,000,000. First he reiterated his recent request for a $4,000,000,000 increase, mostly on corporations. Then he asked nearly $2,000,000,000 in social security taxes to finance new and old programs.

He did not give an inch in his demands for the vast social and economic program he demanded in his State of the Union message; such as housing, better schools, more social security benefits.

On the defense front, Mr. Truman stressed the importance of air power, but frowned on the idea of a 70-group air force, which has been heavily backed in congress and by the air generals. Mr. Truman said that number and size of planes, rather than number of groups is a better gauge of air force strength.

Costs Greater In 1951
Mr. Truman said the prospects for the 1951 fiscal year are for even greater governmental costs. He mentioned national defense and world responsibilities.

Republicans called the Truman figures dangerous, reckless and overestimated. But administration forces showed no sign of discontent.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.) called the budget "the most practical that could be presented at this time."

Cannon will head the house appropriations committee where spending bills originate.

Cannon called it "part of a long time program in which you will have benefits for years to come."

The committee ranking Republican, Rep. Taber of New York, observed "they've evidently given everybody everything they asked for."

He said it would be cut down.

In the Senate, GOP Floor Leader Wherry of Nebraska, called the budget "reckless." He said it proposed "new spending programs which will grow even greater in future years."

Pepper Lauds Truman
Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said Mr. Truman had done "a splendid job" in holding the budget to a figure "only $1,678,000,000 over 1948 with the many increased demands on it."

He praised Mr. Truman for budgeting funds for public aid to education, health, expanded social security and "a real housing program."

Mr. Truman's financial prospects to the president outlined the government which had gasped at advance reports the budget will hit a peacetime peak. And it did just that.

It is $1,678,000,000 over the previous record set this year. It is $873,000,000 bigger than the government's prospective income of $40,000,000,000 in the year ahead. It figures out to $282.82 apiece for every American.

Yet it doesn't even take into account plans for providing military supplies for western Europe and "certain other" unnamed countries.

Mr. Truman said he would ask for money for that "later."

He said, too, that: "It must be recognized that expenditures in the fiscal year 1951 are likely to be larger than those for 1950. Expenditures for national defense can be expected to rise substantially above the level estimated for 1950."

Refuse To Delay Freight Rate Hike

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today refused to postpone freight rate increases on grains, milk, and their products, scheduled to become effective at midnight tonight.

A postponement had been asked by elevator and milling interests and a number of boards of trade in the Midwest. They protested that any increase should be uniform for all parts of the country.

The new "emergency" general freight rate increases are not uniform. They range from four per cent west of the Mississippi river to six per cent east of the river.

U. S. Tries To Reduce Tension In Palestine

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The United States exerted new pressure today to prevent armed conflict between Britain and Israeli in Palestine.

The American move—the second in 10 days—came in a state department statement urging them to treat the shooting down of five RAF planes by Israeli forces as "a regrettable incident only."

Immediate results of the U. S. peace-making effort awaited clarification.

1. In London, British diplomats said Britain will continue massing military forces within easy reach of Israel, but will make no protest to the United Nations.

2. The whole problem of Britain's huge interests in the middle east were carefully reviewed by Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin at a meeting of key British cabinet members and defense chiefs.

3. In Tel Aviv, Israel was reported planning to accuse Britain before the United Nations of violating the Palestine truce. Israeli authorities were said to be preparing charges that Britain has been making large-scale arms shipments to her ally, Egypt.

4. At Lake Success, N. Y., Secretary-General Trygve Lie was engaged in other behind-the-scenes efforts to ease the tension. A United Nations spokesman said Lie talked over "the gravity of the situation" with a member of the U. S. delegation. An Israeli representative called British troop movements "a repudiation of U. N. resolutions calling for a truce."

Dispatches from Tel Aviv quoted a Jewish military spokesman as saying there are no longer any Israeli troops within Egyptian territory. The spokesman said Israeli troops who penetrated two miles inside the Egyptian border were withdrawn last night.

The state department formally counseled moderation until the Jews end Arabs have a chance to work out an armistice in the long and bitter middle east and conflict.

In a formal statement, the state department said today: "We have every confidence that regrettable as it is, it will be considered as a regrettable incident only, and that it will not interfere with the truce negotiations which are to take place in Rhodes later this week."

"The department has been given no understanding that if there are any Israeli troops still in Egypt, they are in the process of being withdrawn."

This was supplemented by a rectified. Israeli's representative in the United States, Eliahu Epstein, conferred with American diplomatic officials during the day. The state department is being supplied with information by Britain as well.

Police Pick Up Suspect In 'Black Dahlia' Murder

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Police Chief C. B. Horrall said today a man has been booked on suspicion of murder in connection with the two-year-old "Black Dahlia" mutilation death.

Horrall said the man gave the name of Jack Sands, 27. He said Sands is a bellhop who got in touch six weeks ago with Dr. Paul De River, police psychiatrist, after the latter had written a magazine article on sadism. Dr. De River's article described as a sadist the killer of Miss Elizabeth Short, known as the "Black Dahlia."

Horrall said Dr. De River arranged a meeting with Sands, who claimed to know a man who "fit" the description of the killer as circled by police.

"This man has knowledge of minute details of the crime," Horrall quoted Dr. De River, "but he steadfastly denies that he knew Miss Short."

The girl's bisected body was found in a vacant lot in Los Angeles Jan. 15, 1947.

Seek To Establish Motive In Scissor Slaying Of Youth

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A 16-year-old youth, charged with the scissor slaying of 12-year-old Ellis Simons, visited municipal court for a probation report only a few hours before the killing.

This was disclosed today as police again cross examined Seymour Levine in an attempt to establish a motive for the crime. Levine will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

Police said Levine went to the juvenile division of the court Saturday, in accordance with terms of the probation, on which he was placed after his arrest last May for allegedly beating a younger boy in his neighborhood.

The body of the mutilated Simons boy was found yesterday behind a garage in back of a home near the Levin residence. Police said Simons had been killed in the Levine home and then dragged through the yard to the rear of the garage.

Robert Mitchum Convicted Of Possessing Marijuana

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Robert Mitchum of the movies was convicted by superior judge in 45 minutes today of conspiracy to possess marijuana, but legal maneuvering by famed lawyer Jerry Giesler may yet save him from jail.

The wily Giesler, who won freedom in recent years for such clients as Errol Flynn and Charlie Chaplin on morals charges, agreed to trial without a jury, on a single count, solely on testimony before the grand jury which indicted Mitchum.

He wouldn't discuss his motives, but other lawyers said he apparently hoped to win probation for his client. Mitchum also was charged with possession of narcotics. This under the law is an offense on which, in the event of conviction, probation can be granted.

Penalties on both possession and conspiracy are the same—50 days to one year in the county jail, or up to six years in prison.

Mitchum, 31-year-old ex-truck driver who became the movie idol of bobby-soxers and whose boxoffice popularity increased after his indictment, dead-panned the proceedings. He didn't even lift an eyebrow when testimony of an arresting officer quoted Mitchum as read:

"This will ruin me. This is why my wife left me. I'm through."

Nor did he flicker an eyelid when the judge pronounced "guilty as charged." He arose and walked out still at liberty on $10,000 bail.

With him went actress Lila Leeds, 20, and real estate man Robin Ford, 31, arrested with Mitchum and Dancer Vicki Evans, 25, in a secluded canyon cottage last Sept. 1. Miss Leeds and Ford likewise were convicted—their attorneys following Giesler's lead. Miss Evans was not in court. She wired she was stranded in New York without funds.

Although Giesler apparently pinned his hopes on winning probation, the district attorney's office implied it would be opposed.

"It is rebuttable," said the trial deputy, Adolph Alexander, "if the defendants are eligible for probation on this conviction."

"Is that because it involves narcotics?" a reporter asked.

"Yes," replied Alexander.

But there was the implication that Giesler, by his move, saved his client from trial on the possession count. Asked whether that count would be dismissed, in view of conviction of the second count, Alexander said:

"That is customary."

House Divides In Criticism Of Spending

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A party line division quickly formed today in congressional reaction to the highest budget figure ever proposed in peacetime.

Disagreement centered on the expanded domestic programs figuring in President Truman's $41,858,000 spending request for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Republicans called the amount reckless and dangerous but there was recognition of the necessity of heavy expenditures for holding back Russia. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, said the record size of such "necessary expenses" weren't properly considered in proposing new spending in other programs "which will grow even greater in future years."

Praises Public Aid

But Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said he is "particularly glad to see funds budgeted for public aid to education, health, expanded social security and a real housing program."

And he praised Mr. Truman for a "splendid job" in holding the budget to a figure $1,678,000,000 above this year's costs in spite of "many increased demands."

The head of the House appropriations committee, Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), said the budget is "the most practical that could be presented at this time."

He said there will be benefits for years to come from the long term program of which it is a part.

FAREWELL TO BATTLESHIPS

(Washington Star)

Although President Truman has denied reports that the U. S. S. Missouri is soon to be laid up, the fact remains that Saturday's ceremony at Norfolk was a tribute to the late American battleship in active service. As such, the ceremony, in effect, was a gesture of farewell to a type of fighting ship which has rendered great service to the nation but which has been outmoded by changing concepts of warfare.

The Missouri and its sister ships were built to meet the threat of enemy battle fleets built around capital ships of like characteristics—specifically those of the Japanese fleet. The battleship evolved to its present formidable proportions as the need developed for larger and larger floating platforms for long-range guns.

But Russia has a submarine fleet that is of real concern to our naval strategists. It is reported to have more than two hundred submarines and to be building many more. Most, if not all of them, are of the dangerous schnorkel type, capable of remaining submerged for weeks at a time and of operating over great distances. The Soviet submarine fleet, then, is the chief work of our naval experts—and battleships would be of little help in combating such a menace. Instead, the emphasis nowadays is on carrier-based planes and fast "killer" ships for anti-submarine warfare.

For Max Fellman Are Held Monday

Funeral services for Max Fellman of Chicago, World War I veteran who died at the veteran's unit at the Jacksonville State hospital, were held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Reynolds Mortuary, with Rabbi Rosenthal officiating.

Military rites were held Monday at Diamond Grove cemetery. Russell J. Alvarez was commander, with F. A. Robinson as chaplain and Bernard Strongman as bugler.

The color bearers were Robert Reid and Karl Derksen. Ray Hart and Harold Meyers were the color guard. The firing squad was comprised of George Vasconcellos, Raymond Massey, Harry Meyer, and Wesley Pettifish.

Flowerbearers were Tom Brenna, George R. Henry, C. B. Siegfried and Brick Robinson.

Mrs. Emma Kuhn Dies At Arenzville Sunday Morning

Mrs. Emma Kuhn, mother of Mrs. L. T. Bargery of St. Louis, formerly of this city, died Sunday morning at the Herman Engelbach residence in Arenzville, where she had resided for the past nine years.

Mrs. Kuhn was born Aug. 21, 1881, the daughter of David and Rebecca Trainor Pence. Her husband, John M. Kuhn, preceded her in death.

Surviving besides her daughter, are two brothers, Dr. H. C. Pence of Taylorville and Dr. W. D. Pence of Berdston; one sister, Mrs. Mary Springstun of Oak Park; and three grandchildren, Tommy, Jackie and Mary Lou Bargery.

The body is at the Williamson Funeral Home, where the family received friends Monday evening. At 8 a. m. Tuesday the body will be removed to the Stumpf Funeral Home at Papa. Funeral services will be conducted there at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Burial will be in West Mount cemetery at Pana.

DOG CARES FOR KITTENS

Sydney, Australia.—(P)—At Quorn, South Australia, a female Australian terrier appointed itself foster-mother to a litter of six newly-born kittens. After a brawl, the bitch and tabby apparently arrived at a compromise, because the terrier is now mothering three of the kittens, which only leave her when they want a feed of the maternal milk. The Australian terrier is a small alert-looking dog evolved in Australia.

Children Are Best Writers—They're Natural Talkers

By Hal Boyle

New York.—(P)—Some notes on the writing trade.

The late Arthur Brisbane was fond of saying that if you put three chimpanzees to work on typewriters they would in time write all the books in the British museum.

This is probably true. But they would be more likely to turn out a Brisbane editorial first, than, say, a book like Tolstoy's "War and Peace."

Unfortunately, there is no way to test this theory. No reward has yet been found that would induce an ape to spend that much time at a typewriter.

It isn't that apes are too self-conscious to put down their thoughts. They just believe more in direct action. They can better express their view of life by spitting through the bars at bystanders than by cranking themselves before a typewriter.

They're Natural Talkers
All children are natural writers, because they are natural talkers. Words are wonderful and new to them. They let the words collide—and strange and splendid images are born. All children do this, even the dullest.

Writers sometimes complain that Chaucer and Shakespeare had an advantage because they wrote at a time when the English language was fresh. They say a writer has it tougher now because he has to labor to avoid literary clichés.

This is our grapes—to use a bro-mide as old as Aesop. A writer has trouble getting away from worn-out phrases because he has spent too much of his life studying what other people wrote and said. And his mind is cloyed with the commonplace remarks he hears all around him every day.

Language New To A Child
But no child ever talks in hackneyed terms. Not until he has been put through the wringer of education. To him the English language is as fresh and powerful as it was to Chaucer and Shakespeare, and he uses it as boldly. This spreading intonation of ours, the greatest tongue the world has known, will always be fresh and new to the writer who dares to bend it to his needs with a child's freedom.

Let me give a borrowed example of the child's matchless gift of imagery. Columnist Frank Farrell published it recently in the New York World-Telegram.

A radio producer's small daughter spent the afternoon at the American museum of natural history, a storehouse of stuffed animals and bony extinct monsters.

When the mother asked where she had been, the small girl replied: "To a dead zoo."

Ever since reading that anecdote I have been in a mood of gentle despair. A trained writer could work a month and never achieve the capsule perfection of this child's offhand description of a museum.

Stalin Best-Selling Author
One of the best-selling authors in Soviet Russia is Joe Stalin, the old watchdog of the Kremlin.

It is too early to tell how he will ultimately rank in the world of letters. But at least one of his observations is profound enough to ring through the ages.

Stalin, it was, who once wrote: "Paper will put up with anything that is written on it."

Yes, even this!

Swedes Find Neutrality Expensive

Stockholm.—(P)—Here where everything is costly—and neutrality is no exception—the Swedes seem to be buying largely of that commodity.

Norway may have made up her mind to join a western alliance. Denmark may have done the same thing.

But not the Swedes. There isn't a sign here which might indicate they'll go into any western, or for that matter, eastern military alliance.

It's straight down the road for Sweden as usual. But, all this is costly.

Prices are high and there are lots of things from the west that one used to see around this beautiful, charming city of the north, which just aren't here anymore.

"Dollars." You hear that word in a lot of places and usually accompanied by "Oh, how I wish I had some." But then they shake their heads and say, "Well, there doesn't seem much chance of that."

The Swedes are not exciting themselves with war talk. Many with whom you talk believe that should a third one come, they will probably be able, as in the case of the other two, to keep clear of shooting.

There may not be many Americans in Sweden, but there certainly is a high population of American cars. The people here seem better dressed than many places in Europe. This goes for the working class, too, and while the housing situation still appears to be bad, it is getting better.

With her pre-war German market gone, Sweden is still looking about for buyers and markets, and apparently finding both although perhaps not in the quantities she would like.

GREEK FISH STUDIED
Athens.—(P)—The Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) and several ministries of the Greek government are cooperating in a campaign to increase Greece's fish production.

Work is now underway to equip a research vessel to determine the time, place and extent of fish runs so that larger catches may be possible.

Up to this time the fishing industry has been handicapped by a lack of such equipment.

A very sizeable production increase is expected as a result of deep sea explorations. American agriculture officials anticipate that the increase in planned fishing activity will reduce the need for imports.

Mrs. Samuel Bull Of Scottville Killed In Wreck Near Modesto

A Scottville woman, Mrs. Lura Bull, 72, was killed and her husband and another man seriously injured in a head-on collision which occurred at 4 p. m. Sunday on Route 111, about one mile south of Modesto.

The woman's husband, Samuel Bull, and the driver of the other car, Ira Bacon, 63, of Palmyra, were taken to the Macoupin hospital in Carlinville.

Mr. Bacon is the more seriously hurt, having sustained severe head injuries, with a possible skull fracture. The exact extent of his injuries had not been fully determined Monday.

Mr. Bull suffered head and chest injuries. His condition is not believed critical.

The dead woman was taken to the Stults Funeral Home in Palmyra. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Huntland church. The Rev. Henry Spencer will officiate and burial will be in Huntland Grove cemetery.

She was born in the Hartland community, a daughter of Dred and Jane Hart Dugger.

Besides her husband, she is survived by five sons, Buell and Lyndell, both of Springfield; Millard and Samuel, Jr., both of Alton, and Ira

Murrayville Club Votes Donation To March Of Dimes

A donation to the March of Dimes campaign was voted by the Murrayville Friendly Neighbors club at its meeting held with Mrs. Gladys Hahn.

Fifteen members were present and responded to roll call with "A Famous Man Named Will." The program, which followed a brief business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Emma Reiser, was given by Mary Langdon. The topic was "Men Named Will."

During the social period two contests were conducted by Mildred Garfield. Prizewinners were Isabel Riey and Emma Reiser. Refreshments were served.

Guests present were Mrs. Wanda Morris, Miss Mary Elaine Langdon, Miss Diane Garfield and David Hall. The next meeting will be held Jan. 20 with Anne Kiley. Election of officers will take place.

RUNNING STAND

When frightened, the collarized lizard dashes off on all fours, much like any other lizard, but as it attains full speed, the tail is raised sharply and the body assumes an upright position.

Navy Opens Drive
In Morgan County
For Stenographers

The United States Navy is urgently calling stenographers for duty in Washington, D. C. according to Miss Margaret L. Doty who arrived in Jacksonville Monday to hire such workers.

Miss Doty, who is from the executive office of the Secretary of Navy, explained that this campaign in Jacksonville is a part of the nationwide drive to combat the shortage of workers now hampering the defense program. She will be at the Illinois State Employment service, 211 E. Morgan, Jacksonville until January 21st, hiring stenographers for duty in Washington, D. C. in Navy Bureaus.

Positions now open in Washington pay salaries from $190 to $280 monthly to experienced workers. Housing in single rooms is guaranteed girls in government operated residence halls at $24.50 monthly; meals are available at Navy cafeterias at an average daily cost of $1.75. Candidates must be able to type 40 words a minute and take dictations at 80 words a minute to qualify. Examinations will be given locally, and appointments completed without delay for those selected.

Appointees will be working close to current historical developments of the Navy Department, since they will be assigned to Bureaus dealing in research, aeronautics, ships, or the Marine corps. Opportunities for study and for sight-seeing are practically inexhaustible in the Nation's capital, Miss Doty says.

Interested applicants who want an opportunity to work as civilian employees of the Navy are urged to "Come Aboard" by applying to Miss Margaret Doty, Navy Civilian Representative at the Illinois Employment Service, 211 E. Morgan St., Jacksonville, immediately. She will be available for interview until Jan. 21 daily, except Saturday between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. and at other times by appointment.

The Word For
Ham And Beans

MENU

- Roast Ham Shank
- Baked Beans
- Brown Bread
- Butter or Margarine
- Cabbage Salad
- Baked Apples
- Milk
- Coffee

A perfect companion piece of favorite baked beans and brown bread and of lots of other foods, as well, is baked ham. The next time you serve this combination, try baking the cushion section of the shank half of a ham. It's easy to cook, easy to glaze and varnish, and especially easy to carve.

The shank half of the ham, as the name implies, is the end of the ham containing the shank bone. Usually it weighs between 5 and 8 pounds. The cushion section is separated by running the knife along the shank bone, making a boneless piece. The remaining portion which contains 425° F. Now skin the fat surface of the shank bone may be cooked with vegetables or cut from the bone for a ham loaf or casserole dishes. The cushion section is triangular attractive in appearance, and has the same good flavor as the whole ham. Its smooth, even fat surface makes it easy to glaze.

The cushion is roasted, just as is the whole ham. Place it fat-side up on a rack in an open roasting pan (no cover, no liquid) and roast at 300° F. (The term bake is sometimes used in connection with ham but roasting is really the name of cooking method used.) Roast the cushion piece, allowing about 25 minutes per pound.

The Fun Begins!

When the meat is thoroughly

Meal With Satisfaction Value

Here's a Saturday night meal adapted from New England that's a favorite all over the country—savory roast ham shank, a pot of baked beans, and lots of mellow brown bread. Not only is this meal delicious, but it is economical as well.

cooked, the fun begins, for that's when it's time to glaze the surface. Remove the ham from the oven and turn the heat up high, about 425° F. Now skin the fat surface of the shank bone may be cooked with vegetables or cut from the bone for a ham loaf or casserole dishes. The cushion section is triangular attractive in appearance, and has the same good flavor as the whole ham. Its smooth, even fat surface makes it easy to glaze.

With your baked beans, you may prefer a glaze that will blend, such as molasses. Or you might try corn jelly. Each, of course, adds a different note to the ham shank. Garnishes present a real opportunity for artistry. Traditional cloves add a warmly satisfying appearance to ham, though it is questionable whether they contribute any flavor. Perhaps you'll want to place a wreath made of pineapple slice, the center filled with gum drops. Or if it is near the holidays, holly or Christmas trees can be made with bits of red and green candied cherries. Once the glaze is on and the garnish in place, return the ham shank in its pan to the hot oven and leave until the glaze turns a golden brown, usually about 15 to 20 minutes. And that's all there is to turning out perfect ham!

Hold Final Rites
For Two Women
In Jersey County

Jerseyville—Funeral services for Mrs. Susan Kitzmiller were held Monday, January 10th, from St. Francis Xavier's church in Jerseyville, at 9:30 a. m. Requiem High Mass was celebrated with the Reverend Father John J. Clancy as celebrant. Interment was made in the Valhalla Memorial Park cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Andrew Kitzmiller; five daughters, Mrs. Henry Hendricks, Mrs. Hallie Hall and Mrs. Adna Snow of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Henry Krueger of Jerseyville and Mrs. R. E. Hefner of Springfield; three sons, Warren and William Kitzmiller of Alton and A. L. Kitzmiller of Wood River; one brother, George Henion of Jerseyville.

Funeral services for Mrs. Evah Ethel Carpunky were held Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the Jacoby Brothers Funeral Home in this city. The Reverend Gerald Grothe, pastor of the Jerseyville Baptist church, officiated, and interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery.

The deceased was the daughter of the late John W. and Sarah Mitchell Green and was born April 19, 1889, in Jersey county. She died suddenly at her home in this city Saturday morning, January 8th, at 6:55 o'clock.

DISTRIBUTES NOVEL SAVINGS BOOK

Children will find it difficult to resist the attractive, colorful, entertaining 12-page coin-saver book called "IT IS FUN TO SAVE" which is being distributed by the Jacksonville Savings and Loan Association to create widespread interest in systematic saving among children.

Colorfully illustrated with circus clowns, animals and rhymes, it holds $5.00 in coins. With a running commentary of human-interest verse, this novel book teaches the relative value of nickels, dimes and quarters by placing the coins in spaces especially provided for them.

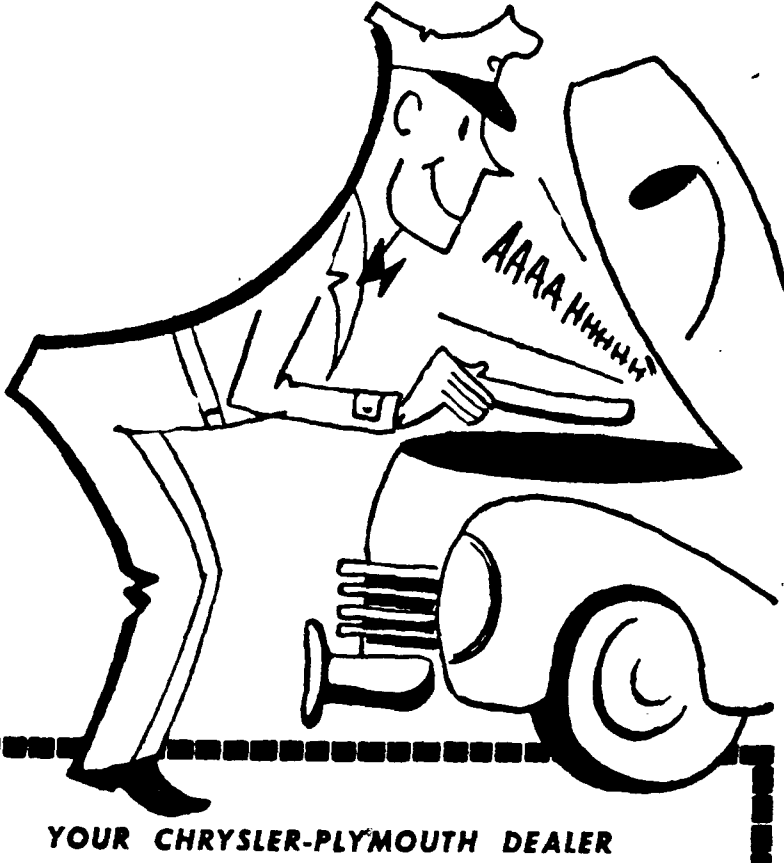

Illustrated cardboard pages hold the money in their spaces skillfully arranged among the capering figures. When the book is filled, simply remove the money and bring it to the Jacksonville Savings and Loan Association and open an account in the child's name... or add the money to your present account... then you can start the fun all over again.

We suggest you get your copies today while the supply lasts. You will want to order one of these books for each child you know. A nominal charge of 35 cents is made for each book to cover cost and handling. Everyone is invited to get this remarkable book.

Nephews, Nieces Named In Will Of Local Woman

Several nephews, nieces and friends were named to receive portions of the estate of the late Miss Martha Patterson of this city, whose will has been filed for probate. The Ebenezer Church Aid society also was named as one of the beneficiaries.

Miss Patterson bequeathed to a nephew, Ray A. Patterson, an undivided interest in Morgan county farm land. She left $200 each to Florence Olson Patterson and Helen May Patterson, together with family belongings and personal effects.

The residence at 1131 West Lafayette avenue was bequeathed to a niece, Lucille Crum Billings, who also will receive $1,000 and household articles.

A cash bequest of $4,000 was made to a nephew, Clavis Kent Crum. The sum of $4,000 was bequeathed to children of a deceased brother, Edward Patterson, to be divided equally.

The sum of $100 was left to Irvin A. Patterson; $600 to Ruby Dewese; and $600 to Ruth Dewese Crabtree.

The sum of $200 was given to the Ladies' Aid society of Ebenezer church for decoration and repairs.

Bertha Whitlock was named to receive $100 and certain personal effects. Mary Doyle and Helen Patterson Smith were named to receive personal effects, and the sum of $100 was left to Ellen Blackburn.

The remainder of the estate was left to Ray A. Patterson, who was named to serve as executor.

The will was made July 13, 1944, witnessed by Albert Mollenbrok, Marjorie Watt and William E. Thomson.

Beware of Romance

By Roberta Courtland

Copyright by Gurney Pub. Co.— Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: The handsome way in which Lisa and Mike live leaves Merry a little breathless. Her first evening in New York, Lisa introduces her to Mike Channing. Next day Lisa takes Merry shopping and buys her a beautiful new wardrobe, including a fur coat. Merry is loath to accept the clothes but Lisa tells her that she'll need them.

XX

MIKE CHANNING was fun, and that first evening "on the town" with him would always stand out in Merry's memory. She had never had so much fun; she had never met so many gay, amusing people or seen so many interesting places. It was almost dawn when she came home, with a list of dates for the future beginning to form.

"You're practically a riot," Mike assured her in the taxi as he brought her home. "You've bowled over some of our most prominent wolves, and even the femmes like you—which is worthy of comment in several languages. But don't forget: I had a priority claim staked out even before you arrived. So when anybody asks you for a date, you have to say positively, like a good little girl, 'I'll have to ask Mike. If he hasn't anything more exciting lined up, maybe I'll waste a few hours with you.'"

Merry laughed. "That ought to make me tremendously popular." Mike nodded. "Oh, it will—with me. And you're not really concerned with being popular with anyone else, of course."

Merry's eyebrows raised. "Oh, am I not?" "Of course not," Mike sounded almost cross. "I'm by far your best chance; eligible, free, 21 (and a little over), sound in mind and limb, broken to harness, a superb disposition. Why, any girl who had the chance to marry me would be an idiot not to jump at it."

Merry gasped. "You like you, don't you?" "Naturally. I have a normal sense of my own importance," Mike told her cheerfully, unabashed. "But to continue. I like fun and games; I could guarantee my wife would never be bored." He broke off, and suddenly he was studying her with a curious, startled intensity. "My wife."

Merry sat very still, for although she knew that it was only a "line" her crazy young heart was pounding away much too fast.

"My wife," said Mike again, and there was an odd, unbelieving tone in his voice.

HE turned and stared down at her in the light of a street lamp where the taxi had suddenly been halted by a traffic light, and she saw that all trace of mocking laughter had vanished from his eyes, and that his face was taut.

"See here," he demanded of her sternly, in deadly earnest, "you don't suppose by any awful chance that this is it?"

Merry's cheeks were hot and she was deeply grateful that the taxi slid forward and that its interior was once more in shadow, lest Mike discover that her color was high.

"It?" she repeated idiotically. "You don't think by any cockeyed chance that I've fallen in love with you? That would be pretty ghastly."

Merry caught her breath and anger stiffened her.

"Pretty ghastly and too silly for words," she told him sharply. Another street lamp, as they slid by it, showed her his face, still grim and set.

"Funny, I can't recall ever feeling this way before." His voice was dry. "Well, I guess we might as well face it, Merry. I'm afraid this is love. Meet me at City Hall and we'll take the usual steps."

Merry was suddenly crazily, unreasonably angry.

"It would serve you right if I held you to that!" she snapped at him.

He stared at her, his eyebrows raised. "But why should you have to hold me to it? I'm a man of my word, a gentleman of honor. I don't go around proposing matrimony unless I mean it."

THE taxi had slid to a stop in front of the Sutton Place apartment and Merry was fumbling with the door, which just then swung open beneath the taxi driver's hand. Merry almost spilled her flustered, indignant young self out on the sidewalk.

"Hi, wait a minute—City Hall, at noon," protested Mike, following her to the steps.

She turned there and straightened her eyes severe.

"Mike Channing, stop this silliness. You're tired, and you haven't the faintest idea what you're saying. Run along home and get some sleep. And don't be a dope."

"I resent that," said Mike stiffly. "When I propose to a girl the least I expect in return is a sensible answer."

"Then—no, thank you very much, Mr. Channing, but I'm not interested."

But before she could slip away from him, Mike's arms shot out, caught her close, held her tightly in spite of her instinctive struggle, and he kissed her hard. It was a half urgent, half angry kiss that was calculated to assert his masculine domination of the scene as much as his burning passion. And when he let her go at last, he was quite white beneath his sun-bronze and his eyes were blazing.

For a moment he stood still, staring down at her, his eyes wide and startled, and then he said under his breath, shocked, appalled, "Well, I'll be blowed!"

The next moment he had whipped away from her and into the taxi, and the taxi had swung into the street. For a stunned moment Merry continued to stand very still there on the apartment house steps in the thick, chill darkness of the hour before dawn.

Capping Ceremonies Held By Hospitals

In impressive ceremonies held Sunday afternoon, the preliminary students of both Our Saviour's and Passavant schools of nursing received their caps.

Dr. A. M. Paisley, who delivered the address at the services held at Our Saviour's nurse's home, congratulated the students and reminded them that the day should be both a happy and a solemn one. . . . happy because they had reached the first milestone in their careers, and solemn because they had begun to realize the serious nature of their profession. . . . that months of study and hard work still lay ahead. . . . and that they were building the foundations of their respective careers, and that they must build them well.

"Be Kind And Gentle"

"Always be kind and gentle," advised Dr. Paisley, "and particularly understanding, in handling patients. People who are in pain are often apprehensive and frightened. . . . try to put your self in the patient's place."

He also advised them not to question the opinion and judgement of hospital authorities; to bear in mind the fact that their judgement was seasoned by years of experience and that the experiences the students gain would cultivate good judgement for them.

The caps were presented by Sister Lauranna, C.S.C. Musical numbers presented by Miss Ruth Roper, Teresa Beatty and Aileen Keckler, included "Ave Maria" by Schubert and the processional, "Jubilee March" by Frederick A. Williams.

Those who participated in the exercise at Our Saviour's included Roy Wright of Jacksonville; Miss Audrey Berghold of Toulon; Miss Anna Brammeier, Miss Irene Powers and Miss Elizabeth Tate of Jerseyville; Miss Doris Welsh and Miss Suzanne Worcester of Winchester.

Miss Martha Campbell, Bluffs; Miss Wanda Deppe, Chapin; Miss Margaret, Garde, Virginia; Miss Gloria Gramann, Beardstown; Miss Frances Grizzle, Roodhouse; Miss Vivian Killebrew, Palmyra; Miss Joan Patterson, White Hall; and Miss Carol Reno, Carrollton.

Rev. McKay Speaks

The Rev. S. P. McKay, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene and father of Miss Betty McKay, one of the students who received her cap, was the principal speaker at the Passavant ceremony.

Rev. McKay, based his address upon the threefold nature of man, body, soul and mind. Provisions for these three natures has been made by God, declared Rev. McKay, who continued by saying "God calls ministers to deal with the spiritual need of man; teachers to instill knowledge in man; and doctors to administer to man's physical needs."

He reflected that "the door of opportunity to serve humanity is just opening for this class. These caps will set them apart as women called to serve the need of humanity, called to a special service."

Mrs. Vera Sue Snyder, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Millie Kent, sang "I Would Be True" by Walter and "An Evening Prayer" by Gabriel. Mrs. Constance F. Johnson lighted the candles.

Mrs. Lena Dixon Dietz, director of nurses at Passavant hospital, presented caps to the following students: Miss Betty McKay and Miss Cecile Rodgers of Jacksonville; Miss Joyce Rebbe of Bluffs; Miss Margaret Bolino of Carlinville; and Miss Rosalie Orris of Chapin.

Damage from rust, rot and neglect during winter is often more costly than the wear and tear of actual use. Here are some tips that cut down repair bills.

1. If possible, house idle machinery in a good shed.
2. Clean out all dirt and trash.
3. Tighten loose bolts, check for cracked or broken parts.
4. Apply rust preventive to unpainted surfaces.
5. Remove belts and canvas—store in a dry place away from rats, mice and birds.
6. Order repair parts now and make repairs this winter.

Meet The Blueboys

The Blueboys reserve guard needs no introduction to most sports fans in this vicinity. Paul, a freshman at Illinois College, is well known to basketball and football followers in and around Jacksonville who remember his prowess on the gridiron and hardwood in high school days.

He was tutored by Bob Kraushaar during the four years he attended Jacksonville high school, and the Crimson mentor can well be proud of his young pupil's showing at the Hilltop.

Lasley was an outstanding guard on the Blueboy football team, working himself into a starting berth in Joe Brooks' line after he had been switched from the backfield because of a shortage of linemen on the squad.

Fitting into Al Miller's substituting system smoothly, the chunky local lad has seen quite a bit of action on the pine this winter.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(P)—Hog prices were 50 cents to 51 higher today but cattle varied from 25 cents lower to 50 cents higher while sheep were steady to 25 cents lower.

Most good and choice butcher hogs sold from $19 to $22.50 and a top of $22.75 paid sparingly and some made from $15.50 to $18.25.

Choice steers sold at $33, high-wood and choice at $28.50 to $32.50, and medium and good grades $22 to $28. Choice heifers made up to $27.50 and medium and good kinds $22 to $26. Good beef cows topped at $20, sausage bulls at $24, and vealers at $34.

Slaughter lambs sold downward from $25 and ewes from $10.90.

Salable receipts included 10,000 hogs, 13,000 cattle, 700 calves, and 6,600 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Jan. 10.—(P)—The stock market coasted along at slightly lower levels today after a slow retreat.

Fractions to a point or more were clipped from leading issues before the price curve flattened out. A good handful of resistant spots also developed.

Business was comparatively slow throughout the session, with turnover at the rate of 800,000 shares for the full day.

The president's budget message had a negative effect on price trends. While the message did not encourage selling at the same time it had a constraining effect on demand.

Marked down were Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), Western Union, Electric, Allied Chemical, Radio Corp., Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Goodrich, Studebaker, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel and National Steel.

Markets at a Glance

New York, Jan. 10.—(P)—Stocks—Lower; leaders in slow decline.

Bonds—Uneven; some calls advanced.

Cotton—Steady; spot house buying.

Chicago

Wheat—Firm; market receipts cash grain small.

Corn—Steady; rallied with wheat.

Oats—Mixed; May lower, others higher.

Soybeans—Easy with fats and oil price weakness.

AMVET meeting tonight.

Mangrum Takes Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—(P)—Steel-nerved Lloyd Mangrum, refusing to crack when others did, launched golf's golden winter tour today with a victory in the $15,000 Los Angeles open.

The 34-year-old former United States Open champion laced out a steady one-under par 70 for a 72-hole score of 284 to capture by three strokes this 23rd edition of the Los Angeles tourney. It was worth $2,000 cash to him.

The win by Mangrum ended a two-year domination of the tournament by little Ben Hogan, who wound up with 292—a very un-Hoganlike tally.

Low amateur honors went to Frank Stranahan, the gifted muscle boy from Toledo, Ohio, and Bruce McCormick of Hollywood. They were tied with 295.

E. J. (Dipch) Harrison of Little Rock, whose handsome 69 set the pace in the first round four days ago, closed with a 71 for 287 and second place money of $1,900.

Tied one stroke behind Harrison were Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., Eric Monti of Santa Monica, Calif., Billy Nary of Albuquerque, N. M., whose 67 was low score today, and Leland Gibson, of Kansas City, whose 67 yesterday under extremely bad weather conditions was perhaps the finest round of the tournament.

Sam Snead made a bid but grew as cold as the air around the Riviera Country club and finished with a 73 for 289.

MAY WHEAT AND CORN PACE ADVANCE IN GRAIN PRICES

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(P)—Grains mostly moved ahead on the Board of Trade today. May wheat and corn deliveries, up more than a cent at times, paced the advance. Oats were inclined to lag, largely because heavy farm stocks were expected to be shown in an agriculture department estimate.

Action of cereals was not of much help to soybeans and lard, the targets for last week's selling. Both did better than on Saturday, and at times soybeans even had small gains, but late in the session more liquidation in these contracts developed.

All lard deliveries sank to new seasonal lows, going under the bottoms established in Saturday's dealings.

Receipts were: wheat 18 cars, corn 368, oats 65, soybeans 20.

Wheat closed 2-1/8 higher, May $2.44 1/2, corn was 1-1/8 higher, May $1.47 1/2, oats were 1/8 lower to 1 1/2 higher, May 76 1/2, rye was 1 cent higher, May $1.63 1/2, soybeans were 1-1/4 lower, March $2.47 1/2, and lard was 17 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $15.20.

Indiana Finishes Strong To Defeat Iowa Five 50-39

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 10.—(P)—Indiana University's young basketball team finished strong to defeat Iowa, 50-39, in a Big Nine basketball game here tonight.

The victory evened the Hoosiers' conference record after they lost their league opener to Illinois last Saturday. The loss was the second in as many starts against conference opponents for Iowa, which lost its opener to Purdue.

Indiana held only a 25-21 margin at the halftime but was as hot as Iowa was cold during the last session of play. It took the Hawkeyes more than six minutes to get the first of the 18 points they finally managed in the second half.

Long set-shots by Bill Toshoff sent Indiana into a lead it never relinquished. During the first half he potted four baskets from 40 feet out and sank a free throw for nine points. His night's total of 12 counters was high for both teams.

Little Charles Mason led the Hawk rally in the first half at 18-18, but Indiana beat back the threat.

Lou Watson, Don Ritter and Bill Garrett began hitting freely in the second half as the Iowa defense sputtered.

Indiana scored 12 points before the Hawks could manage a second half tally and then it was too late.

Mason's 10 points were high for Iowa and Watson equalled that for second high Indiana scoring honors.

Bob Merris

Basketball schedules and players are rounding into midseason form. With Christmas and New Year's celebrations sidelined for another year, the cagers are tackling the tougher portion of their hoop slates.

Tournaments are coming up on schedules with increasing regularity. Virginia enjoyed an especially successful elimination meet this past week, although the host club was bumped off by Chambersburg in the championship fray.

The 27th annual Winchester Invitational Tournament is just around the corner. It will get underway the 17th, while the PMBC meet is on the card for the 25th to 28th of this month at I.S.D.

Rushville is the favored five in the Winchester match. However, we'll have to jinx the host five, rated number two, and put them on top in our selections. The Wildcats sport a pair of five cagers in Hankins and Stuart, while four other men on the squad would have little trouble making any team in this section. They've proven this with their splendid record to date, and consistently ring up 60 points or over in every contest.

Mt. Sterling is tops in the PMBC coaches' eyes, but again we disagree, go out on the limb and pick Chambersburg, number four on the list, to take home the Loop crown. Eldon Atwood's boys from this tiny river town are fresh from capturing the Virginia go this week, and are currently the owners of a 10-1 season's Mt. Sterling is the only team that has beaten the Chambersburg lads and our money says it won't be done again.

The Burg's toughest opponent in this meet will be the Rount Rockets in the semi-finals. Paul Stroud's crew is plenty rugged this season and won't say 'uncle' to any quint without a battle. They just might turn the trick and dump Chambersburg, and with them our predictions.

Spike Wilson's Tigers take another jaunt out of the state Wednesday when they journey to Louisiana, Mo., to enter an 8 team tournament in that city. Data on this meet will be published later on this page.

Al Miller's college quint bites off a big chew this week. They play host to Millikin on Wednesday and Wheaton Saturday, in Central Conference contests. Both of these five are marked 'tough'—handle with care in the little black books of the conference coaches. They are one-two in conference ratings, and it's a toss-up between the quintets as to which will bring home the bacon in February.

Campus scuttlebutt has it that Kenny Bloomer, basketball star at the Hilltop school in '41-'42, is returning to I.C., and will make his appearance on the hardwood in the school colors in the very near future. Bloomer was all-conference guard in 1942, his junior year at Illinois College.

Cop Killer Will Get Chair If He Is Caught; Boyle

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(P)—Authorities worked with fingerprint clues today in efforts to trace the killer of a policeman. If found, he will be sent to the electric chair, State's attorney John Boyle promised.

Policeman Jerry Lebloch, 25, was slain and his companion officer, Rudolph Luola, 28, was wounded early Sunday when they approached what they believed was an empty car in suburban Stickney.

The killer fled on foot. An arsenal of loot was found in the car which police said was stolen. Both the car and loot yielded fingerprints.

The arsenal included 10 pistols, three rifles, a shotgun, four black-jacks and about 100 boxes of cartridges, all stolen from a sporting goods store in suburban Berwyn.

"If the killer is caught," state's attorney Boyle declared, "I am going to make an example of him. I will send him to the electric chair. Anyone else who kills a policeman can expect the chair."

Purdue Pinches Off Michigan Five In 45-36 Contest

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 10.—(P)—Purdue's Bolleymakers pinched off a Michigan rally tonight and handed the Western conference defending basketball champions their second straight defeat, 45 to 36.

The Purdue starting five played the entire game and committed only seven personal fouls among them. Michigan's nine players fouled 16 times and the difference accounted for seven points of Purdue's nine-point winning margin.

Forwards Norris Caudell and Howard Williams led the Purdue attack with identical summaries—six field goals, one free throw, one personal foul and 13 points. Guard Bill Mikulich was the only Michigan player getting more than two field goals and his grand total was seven points.

Williams pitched five of his fielders in a first half rush that gave Purdue a 25-14 advantage. Michigan took a 7-2 lead at the start but Bill Berberian, Williams and Caudell hit from the field to shift the advantage.

Pete Elliott, quarterback of Michigan's undefeated football team, started a Wolverine rally in the second half that tied the score at 27-all with 11 minutes to go. Three Purdue free throws and baskets by Williams and Caudell pushed the Bolleymakers ahead again.

Elgin Again Rated No. 1 Prep Cage Threat Downstate

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(P)—For the third straight time, Elgin was picked today by sports writers as the No. 1 downstate prospect for the state high school basketball title.

Kankakee landed the No. 2 spot in the top 15 selections and Teutopolis No. 3, the same berths they held in the second Associated Press poll a week ago. Mt. Vernon was ranked fourth again.

Unbeaten Elgin, still recovering from effects of a December auto accident, did not play over the weekend.

A one sided triumph over Lockport extended Kankakee's undefeated string through 12 games, leaving the Kays two victories short of Teutopolis' 14-0 record. Teutopolis stretched its skein by copping the national trail tourney crown with three wins in a row.

Evansville, DeKalb, Sterling and Marmion Academy of Aurora were four other clubs that remained unbeaten.

Evansville was promoted three notches to the No. 5 slot on the strength of a 38-25 decision Friday over Waukegan's capable entry, their ninth success of the campaign.

Paris Drops To 13th

Evansville replaced Paris, whose Tigers suffered a 60-49 setback by Waukegan on Saturday and skidded to 13th place.

DeKalb outpointed Freeport 54-47 on Saturday for its 12th triumph following a 14 point conquest of O'Leary. Despite the twin killing, DeKalb dropped one position in the ratings to seventh, trading places with Moline which trimmed Rock Island and an Iowa outfit.

Their ninth win, a 66-41 verdict over Dixon, enabled Sterling's warriors to jump from 15th to the No. 10 berth. Marmion racked up its 10th consecutive win 32-23 from Wheaton.

Two quintets making initial appearances in the ratings were Herlin and Monmouth. Herlin claimed the No. 14 position after walloping Zeigler 62-21 for its 10th win in 11 starts.

Monmouth's Zippers grabbed the tailend post with a 49-36 victory over Galesburg, which was erased from the elite list. Monmouth has lost only to Moline and East Moline in nine games.

Marion was ejected from the ratings following its loss Friday to Benton. Marion bounced back with a 50-41 triumph over Harrisburg on Saturday.

How They're Rated

MALAYA PLANS NAVY

Singapore.—(P)—Malaya is on the way to having its own navy.

A bill to provide for its establishment will be put before the Singapore Legislative Council soon.

Enlistment in the force will be open to British subjects and citizens of the Federation of Malaya. Size of the force will be determined by the governor of Singapore. Singapore will provide funds for the navy.

By John Campbell

Cal Neeman sparked Illinois Wesleyan U. in their win over Illinois College with 23 points.

Neeman was a star forward for the Dupu high in 1947 as he scored 46 points in one game for Coach Baker at Dupu. Neeman is 6 feet one inch and weighs 175 pounds.

Harry Hedden, former star cager for Coach Merle Crosby at Robinson high is one of the first ten players for Charleston Teachers college this season. He played in the game here with Illinois College in December.

Bill Boyer, Beardstown star center two years ago, is among the University of Illinois candidates for basketball this season. Boyer spoked Coach Nick Carter's 1947 five to the Sweet 16 tourney, but they lost to the state champs, Paris, in the first round.

Two coaches have won the Illinois State title three times. Arthur Trout of Centralia and Gay Kintner of Decatur. Mark Peterman of Springfield has won titles with Canton in 1928 and Springfield in 1933 being the only coach to win from different schools.

Benny Wilhelm, former Taylorville high star, is playing his last year of basketball at Arkansas State college. He Tomlinson is the Coach at Arkansas State. He is a former Lincoln product.

Coach Jim Lewis of Pekin high has coached four years at the Pekin school and took four Chink teams to the "Sweet 16" tourney. His five last year captured the Big 12 title and placed third in the State tourney.

The 16 teams entered in the 27th Annual Winchester tourney next week have been defeated at least one time this season. Rushville won over the Winchester team and lost to Edwardsville and Altamont.

Boryla, Ex-Irish Basketball Great, Stars With Denver

Denver, Jan. 10.—(P)—A Polish youth who developed his shooting eye at back-yard goals in East Chicago is the sensation of the young Big Six basketball campaign.

Although he plays with a losing ball club, rugged, likeable Vince Boryla of Denver is setting the national college scoring pace with 218 points in 10 games. His terrific performances have stamped him as one of the top candidates for the college All-America team.

If he maintains his present average, the big, amibidextrous Denver center will hit around 700 points for the season, twice as many as Jack Hauser of Denver managed last year when he won the Rocky Mountain regional scoring championship with 355.

Boryla, former Notre Dame scoring champion and a two-time A.A.U. All-America choice with the Denver Nuggets, is far ahead in the Big Six scoring race, although his reputation made him a marked man from the beginning of the season.

Several teams have thrown two guards against him in futile attempts to block the amazingly accurate shots he fires with either hand off the pivot post. But even this two-pronged tactic failed to stop him. His poorest night was against Ohio State, when he scored 15 points while suffering from influenza.

Lesinski To Draft 'One-Package' Bill To Handle Labor

Washington, Jan. 10.—(P)—Rep. John Lesinski (D-Mich.) said after a conference with President Truman today that he will start drafting immediately a "one package" labor bill repealing the Taft-Hartley act and restoring the old Wagner act to amended form.

Lesinski, prospective chairman of the House Labor committee, said he thought hearings would follow the inauguration. Senator Lucas of Illinois, slated to be senate majority leader, said yesterday every effort will be made to complete action before May 1.

Lesinski said that the President thought the "one package" treatment was a "good idea," but that he did not want to dictate the procedure to congress.

Inaugural Parade Seats Are Scarce

Washington, Jan. 10.—(P)—The 1949 inaugural committee expects to hang out the "standing room only" sign this week-end for the presidential parade Jan. 20.

It announced today it will probably have sold all remaining inauguration parade seats by that time.

Some are left in the $3, $4 and $6 brackets but the committee doesn't think they will last long.

High School Quints In Action Tonight; IC Plays Wednesday

Routt and Jacksonville High School quints open a crowded local cage slate this week as they play host to Waverly and Mt. Sterling quints on their respective floors tonight. Spike Wilson's five travels to New Berlin for a hardwood bout with the Pretzels.

Wednesday night, Al Miller's Hilltop aggregation entertains its arch rival, Millikin, on the I.S.D. boards. Thursday evening the westend gymnasium will be the scene of another red-hot battle when the Routt and J.H.S. basketballers clash in an intra-city prep fray. Paul Stroud's quint ends a tough week Friday evening when they tangle with St. James in the Our Saviour's arena, and the local college Blueboys make it game number five in town this week Saturday evening, playing a strong Wheaton outfit at I.S.D.

I.S.D. In Louisiana Tourney

While all this is going on in the city, the I.S.D. squad will be in Louisiana, Mo., playing in a 12 team tournament. The Wilsonmen journey to Louisiana Thursday, and will stay 'til hostilities end Saturday night. Getting back to tonight's contests—Paul Stroud named Paul Kennedy, Vernon Tizhe, Paul Saner, Joe Murphy and A. J. Spreen in his starting line-up for the Rocket.

Crimsons vs. Mt. Sterling

In the other home game this evening, Bob Kraushaar's Crimson outfit battles with a tough Mt. Sterling five. The Crimsons have had trouble since the Jacksonville home tourney, and will be fighting for a chance to get back in the w column. After battling their way into the finals of the local Christmas meet, they dropped the championship fray to Pawnee, and after that lost to Rock Island. Quincy at Beardstown quints in quick succession. They have been playing tougher competition than the majority of the teams in this vicinity, and their 5-7 record cannot be taken lightly when you note the outfit they've encountered.

Starting J.H.S. Line-up

Kraushaar announced that Harvey Meyer will open the Mt. Sterling fracas at the pivot spot. The Crimson mentor has tried several boys in that position this season with minimum of success. Meyer, slighter shorter than his predecessors, is reported to carry a lot of zip on tip court, and should fit in well with fighting Crimson guards and forwards.

Stan Supts and Dave Bussey pair off at the guards, with Roll Trotter and Bill Williams filling the starting five. The prelim w start at 6:45 in the D.D. gym.

Mt. Sterling has made only one appearance in town to date, dropping a thrilling 44 to 40 hoop fight Routt last week. They hold a 4 record, marking wins over Chambersburg, Mercedosa, Chapin at Notre Dame of Quincy. F.M.B. coaches picked them the number one team in that conference tourney, which is slated to open the 25 of this month at I.S.D.

Tigers To New Berlin

The Tiger five from the west moves east this evening, as they journey to New Berlin for a contest with the Pretzel aggregation.

Spike Wilson, I.S.D. mentor, plans to use Leo Cecil, Alta Hood at forwards, Paul Hoffman at the pivot, with Billy Yates and Stan Kwiat in the guard positions open tonight's contest.

The westenders have played contests this winter, winning 5 at losing 3. They dropped games Franklin, Princeton and Macor five by very close scores to make their only defeats. Their most impressive wins were over Routt at Waverly points whom they edged 1 and 2 point margins early in the season.

Fire Destroys Main Building Of Gravel Springs Bottling Co.

The main building of the Gravel Springs Bottling Company, 720-726 East Railroad street, was destroyed by fire between 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock Sunday night, together with all contents. Firemen, with two pumps and five streams of water in action, saved a connecting building from all but minor damage.

Hundreds of spectators flocked to the scene of the spectacular blaze. The main building was of frame construction and burned rapidly, the fire having attained a long start before it burst through the roof.

Mrs. Lurah Gillis, White Hall, Dies Near Manchester

Roodhouse — Mrs. Lurah Belle Gillis, 68, died Sunday at 8 p.m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lester Bishop, two miles northwest of Manchester. Her death followed a short illness.

A resident of White Hall for many years, Mrs. Gillis was born in Pike county on Sept. 9, 1880, the daughter of Charles H. and Martha Hayrit Emory.

She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Mabel Scoggins, Alton; Frank, Burlington, Ia.; Eugene, White Hall; Mrs. Addie Zoller, Hillview; Clarence, Manchester; Wilbur, Roodhouse; and Mrs. Lester Bishop.

Also surviving are three brothers, Elmer Emory of Alton, and Frank and Adolph Emory of Benton Harbor, Mich., and two sisters, Mrs. Cora Smith, Pittsfield and Mrs. Mackie Strawn, Alton.

The body was taken to the Mackie Funeral Home at Roodhouse, where it will remain until the hour of services. Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Tabernacle church at White Hall. The Rev. John Alexander will officiate and burial will be in Belletown cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Pees entertained with a group of readings. A gift exchange was held and mystery prizes were won by Mrs. Claire E. Malcolmson, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. J. C. Hughett, assistant teacher, and Mrs. Lamar Gutekunst, retiring president, were presented with gifts from the class.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Hughett, served delicious refreshments to the 26 members and guests present.

FOX AND WOLF DRIVE AT VIRGINIA SUNDAY

Virginia—William Rossi, Jr., announced Monday that a fox drive will be held in that vicinity Sunday. All sportsmen are invited to assemble at the public square in Virginia at 9 a.m., Jan. 16.

Several very successful drives were held in that area last year. Observers say the foxes and wolves are "just as thick as they were a year ago."

Only shotguns loaded with No. 4 pellets will be permitted.

Death Summons Medora Woman

White Hall—Mrs. Ida Turner, 86 years old, a resident of Medora, died Sunday at 2 p.m. at the White Hall hospital where she had been under treatment a week.

Surviving are one son, Clifford, of Medora; one daughter, John McConathy, of Roodhouse; four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The remains were taken to the Whitefield-Warner funeral home at Medora. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Medora Methodist church, and burial will be made there.

Catch Men Trying To Bring Jewish Aliens Into U. S.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 10—(AP)—Three Jewish refugees—all former inmates of Nazi concentration camps—were arrested at Marathon yesterday after a 28-hour watch by border patrolmen.

Chief Border Patrol Inspector Frank Hornyak said the six were seized as they docked the 45-foot charter vessel, Semper Fidelis, in which they had come from Havana, Cuba.

Hornyak identified the aliens as Ianu Herscu, 26, his wife Milica, 25, of Romania and Arthur Woloski, 23, of Poland. He said Herscu and his wife had been inmates of the Buchenwald concentration camp and Woloski had spent five years in four different Nazi prisons.

Charged with attempting to smuggle aliens into this country illegally and conspiracy were Arthur Padagas, 25, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; Arthur J. Benson, 34, of Massachusetts, master of the charter boat, and Joseph Sowinski, 59, of Wisconsin, a crewman.

In Washington, Attorney General Tom Clark said there was "some indication that others in the United States are involved and a full investigation is in progress."

9 Local Nurses Attend Meeting At Taylorville

Nine local nurses attended the regular meeting of district nine, Illinois Nurses association, held Saturday at the Taylorville country club.

The meeting, which began at 11:30 a.m., included talks by Dr. Camille Baldwin, Springfield school dentist and Miss Maude B. Carson of the State Department of Health. Dr. Baldwin told of the "Sodium Fluoride" treatment in the Prevention of Dental Caries. Miss Carson spoke on "Social and Health Aspects in the Basic Curriculum."

Those attending from Jacksonville included Sister Lauranna, C.S.C., Sister Edgar, C.S.C., and Mrs. Mary Nestor of Our Saviour's; Miss Lucetta Rentschler, Miss Henriette Carter, Mrs. Nellie Phillips and Miss Estelane Miller of Passavant, and Mrs. Bessie Spaulding and Mrs. Edith Leeper of the Morgan county health department.

Winchester Unit Of Home Bureau To Meet Tonight

Winchester—The Evening unit of the Home Bureau will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Winifred Stuart. The major lesson will be "Winter Salads in Relation to the Meal" by Mrs. Mildred Seaman. The minor lesson on music appreciation will be given by the hostess.

Air Scouts Study Wind Direction

The program for the next two months was arranged Monday night when the Jacksonville Air Scouts met at the Legion Home. Squadron Leader John Linebaugh gave a talk on wind direction, velocity and change with altitude.

At the next meeting, on Jan. 17, John Ryan will discuss weather determination instruments and how they work; Sam Pevey will discuss the effects of icing on aircraft and means of de-icing.

Other programs scheduled include a ping-pong tournament, map reading, traffic control and the physics of flight. The group will visit the National Guard weather station and tower in Springfield on Feb. 20.

The troop will hold "Guest Night" on Feb. 21.

Rites Held Monday For H. B. Kamm

Largely attended funeral rites for Henry B. Kamm were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Westminster Presbyterian church, with the Rev. W. C. Meeker and Dr. Arthur F. Ewert officiating.

Vocals were presented by Miss Elizabeth Nelms, accompanied at the organ by Miss Carmen Covey. The flowers were arranged by Miss Katherine Barr, Miss Louise Holmes, Miss Anna Doan, Miss Irene Grove and Mrs. George Rogerson.

Pallbearers were Cliff Sibert, Philip Bradish, Charles Harris, E. A. Sibert, John Fral, J. H. Zell, Howard Stevenson and Dr. L. E. Staff. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

TOBAGGANERS PLAY GOLF Wayne Township, N. J., Jan. 10—(AP)—There was a week-end tournament of 265 persons at the Passaic county golf club where a toboggan slide was erected this fall. The mercury read 49 degrees and the slide was bare of snow.

They all played golf.

PNG CLUB TO MEET The Past Noble Grand club of Caritas Rebekah lodge, No. 625, will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gaston Poote. Mrs. Della Jackson and Mrs. Marie Radcliff will be assistant hostesses.

A wind of 30 miles an hour is nine times as strong as a 10-mile wind.

Sleet Hits Utilities, But Maybe It's Over

Utility maintenance men, state and city police were feeling a little better early Tuesday morning, confident and hopeful that the threatening sleet storm wouldn't envelop the city after all.

Crews had responded to a series of calls early in the night, but they had been able to keep abreast with developments.

Quincy and Pittsfield weren't faring so well. Communication lines severed, unable to bear the heavy load of ice.

The rain stopped in Jacksonville around 10 p.m. Overburdened trees and wires soon after began to lose a portion of accumulated ice.

Pavements in this area remained free of ice. They had soaked up enough heat from last week's "hot spell" to counteract the effects of the cold rain. Peoria was the only city in Illinois that complained of slippery roads Monday evening.

The rain, never very hard, began about 4 p.m. Sunday and continued until 10 p.m. Monday. Throughout the day the thermometer stood around the 33 mark. The rain, chilled by lower readings above the earth, collected on the trees and wires. They started to groan early Monday evening.

Calls began flocking in about 7 p.m. Tree limbs tumbled down, tearing electric and telephone lines with them. Some of the streets were blocked for a time. But the crews of the Illinois Power company, City Light and Power, Illinois Telephone company and the Jacksonville street and police departments were able to keep up with the damage.

The Illinois REA plant in Winchester reported that their men were able to maintain service, "thanks to the two-way radio." The radio system was installed by the cooperative last summer.

There was practically no damage in Greene county reported. Morgan, Calhoun, Scott, Cass and Pike county lines, particularly the latter, caused considerable trouble.

For hours Monday evening it appeared highly likely that most stokers, ice boxes, stoves, radios and telephones would be out of commission Tuesday. With fingers still crossed, utility men this morning hoped the sleet storm was on its way out.

Three Candidates File Petitions For Alderman

Petitions of three more aldermanic candidates for the primary election Feb. 22 were filed Monday at the clerk's office.

Kenneth Woods, Democrat, is a candidate for alderman in the third ward.

Benjamin H. Denney, Republican, is a candidate for alderman in the second ward.

Crit Haneline, Republican, filed for alderman from the fourth ward.

Concord Society Holds Meeting

Concord—The ladies Aid of Concord Christian church met Tuesday at the home of Miss Alma Detarding.

Roll call was answered by eleven members and guests giving a current event. Devotions were led by Mrs. Bertha Bayless, who read scriptural quotations on "The Second Coming of Christ."

During the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Verle Brockhouse, the members voted to give their annual pledges to benevolences. The president also appointed a committee to purchase new curtains for the Morgan hall.

A letter from a former member, Mrs. Eva Cooper, now residing in Tulare, Calif., was read.

During the social hour Mrs. Ollie Williams conducted several contests and read an interesting poem, "The Guy in the Glass."

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Grace

To Wed Soon

MISS LILLIAN TENDICK

The marriage of Miss Lillian Tendick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tendick of Murrayville, and Kenneth C. Stoen, of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Stoen of Balsom Lake, Wis., will take place Saturday, Jan. 15, at 6 p.m. at the Bethel Lutheran church in Evergreen Park, Ill.

Miss Tendick, a graduate of Murrayville Community High school, is now a stewardess for American Airlines. She was formerly employed in the accounting department of the Industrial Chemical company in New York City.

Her fiancé is a veteran of World War II, having served four years in the U. S. Marines. He is now manager of Boyd's Hardware company in Chicago.

The couple are planning to reside in Chicago.

Glasgow Services For Ray Smith Conducted Monday

Glasgow—An overflow gathering of relatives and friends from here and many other communities attended the funeral services for Ray Smith held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Glasgow Baptist church. The Rev. C. L. Leitze of Lynville, high school teacher of the decedent, officiated.

A vocal duet, composed of Mrs. George Leitze and Miss Norma Nicholson sang "In the Garden" and "Going Down the Valley." They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William Cunningham.

The many beautiful floral tributes were cared for by Mrs. Bernard Orris, Mrs. Charles Lohr, Mrs. William Sloan, Mrs. Wood Waters, Mrs. Lester Wingerter, Mrs. N. B. Crosby, Mrs. Glenn Nicholson, Mrs. Joe Sanderson, Miss Barbara McEvers, Miss Suzanne Sanderson, Miss Louella Amith and Miss Doris Kesteron.

Honorary casketbearers were Herbert Young, Elmer Redman, Charles Lohr, H. W. Drescher, Fred Fortschneider, Marion Twitschell, Everett Tolbert, Earl Flowers, Virgil Cope, Robert Coffman, John Gray and A. Tapen.

Active casketbearers were Bernard Orris, William Sloan, Wood Waters, Glen Nicholson, John Cairns, David Redman, Jr. Many of these men had been fellow Alton workers with the deceased.

Masonic rites were conducted at the church at the close of the services, with David Cowick as worshipful master and Hal Montgomery as secretary. Both are members of the Winchester lodge. Other lodges in this area were represented in the group attending.

Members of the Scott county post of the American Legion also attended the services in a body. Military graveside rites were conducted at the Glasgow cemetery. R. K. Robinson served as chaplain, Harry Young as chaplain, and E. Funk as sergeant-at-arms. Taps were sounded by Verne Drake.

See Bright Prospects For Bumper '49 Crops

Washington, Jan. 10—(AP)—Present feed grains has resulted in heavy conditions point to 1949 as another year of big farm production, the agriculture department reported today.

In a monthly survey, the department said another relatively large acreage of food, livestock feed and fiber crops appears in prospect.

Furthermore, weather and other factors which normally influence spring and summer farm operations were said to be at least as favorable as the average of the last seven years of exceptional crop production. Soil moisture supplies were said to be adequate except in Texas and portions of the west.

Supplies of farm machinery and fertilizers are becoming available in increasing quantities, the department said.

Winter wheat was planted on a record acreage and has been fostered, the department said, by mild weather and protective snow cover when the weather became severe.

Fall farm work, particularly seeding of fall grains and plowing, was reported well advanced.

The department said liberal use of

Truman Asks Increased Funds For Agriculture

Washington, Jan. 10—(AP)—President Truman estimated today the government will spend $1,404,000,000 on farm price support programs during the two year period ending June 30, 1950.

Most of this will be spent on products the government takes over under support operations. Whether it loses any money will depend on prices it is able to get for the products when it finally disposes of them.

Mr. Truman estimated price support outlays of $866,000,000 for the current fiscal year ending June 30, and $538,000,000 for the following fiscal year. These forecasts assume that 1949 crops will not be as large as 1948's record volume. Smaller crops this year would mean smaller price support expenditures than for 1948 crops.

May Need More

Mr. Truman said, however, that should 1949 crops equal last year's the support needed in the new fiscal year would be considerably larger than his $538,000,000 estimate.

The government supports prices principally by making loans to producers on extra supplies or by outright purchase of surpluses. Often purchased products are resold for less than the cost. But the government has in the past made money on some products taken over under price-aid programs. Such was the case with grains and cotton acquired before the war and sold at increased prices during the war.

The president's forecast of price support outlays was made in his annual budget message to congress. He requested an appropriation and borrowing authority totaling $1,279,542,000 for the agriculture department. This request did not include funds for price support. It compares with $1,201,236,000 voted the agency for the current fiscal year.

Price support costs are paid by the Commodity Credit Corporation—the department's $4,750,000,000 banking agency. It gets separate appropriations to cover price support costs.

Hints Acreage Controls Mr. Truman foresees a possible return in 1950 to rigid prewar crop control measures to prevent production of surpluses that might require much greater future outlays for support.

He asked $27,500,000 to finance possible planting allotments and marketing quotas on such crops as wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, peanuts and rice. At this time, such controls are in effect only on tobacco and peanuts.

The chief executive still left unsettled the question whether he favors rigid, high-level price supports such as are now in effect, or a flexible system.

The president did say, however, that the present law had one major defect in that it restricted the government's authority to provide storage facilities for crops. During the presidential campaign, democrats said this restriction weakened price support programs.

To remedy this, Mr. Truman recommended repeal of the restriction, and disclosed that he will ask congressional authority to spend $25,000,000 for storage facilities.

For the 1950 crop year, the president recommended a soil conservation program of $262,500,000, or the same as authorized for the 1949 crop year. Most of this money is paid farmers for carrying out approved soil conservation practices.

11 Foxes Equal $33 For Arcadia A.T.A.

Eleven red foxes dropped before the accurate fire of shotguns Sunday as the Arcadia Anti Thief Association staged one of the largest and most successful roundups that has been held in Central Illinois this winter.

Clyde D. Black, deputy county clerk, is shown after he inspected the critters when they were brought to the courthouse for bounty payment Monday. Holding the string are Martin Burmeister, Loren Burus and Ivan Petefish.

One hundred men, well organized under captains and lieutenants, participated in the drives north, south and east of Arcadia. The guns were loaded with No. 4 shot, which is the right size for bringing down foxes.

The roundup was staged with Ivan Petefish and Clifford Burrus as captains. Men were dispatched to various points in five trucks, from which they started the drives. The roundup was timed to permit large numbers of hunters to converge on an area at a certain time.

Officials of the roundup reported that probably a dozen foxes escaped through the lines.

The slain foxes were loaded in a truck and brought to the court house Monday morning where the bounty of $3 each was collected by A.T.A. officials. The money will be placed in the organization treasury and applied on the new building that is being erected at Arcadia by the Anti Thief Association and Arcadia Woman's club.

Members of the Woman's club served lunch to the hunters who took part in the roundup.

Five runs were made in the morning; four circuits were completed in the afternoon. One fox was seen diving into a hole. A couple of quarts of gasoline poured into the den brought him out.

The trucks were furnished by Ivan Petefish, Harold Rolf, Burrus Brothers, Lloyd Braner and Jim Thompson.

Neely Asks Denham, NLRB Head, Be Fired

Labor Bill Hearings Hit New Snags

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Senator Neely (D-W.Va.) today called Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, a "biased and prejudiced" man who ought to be fired.

Denham made no immediate reply to the charge, thrown by the 74-year old lawmaker in a Senate labor committee hearing in favor of many provisions of the Taft-Hartley law, had only this to say:

"I gave the committee my opinion, based on the experience of the past 17 months. That represented my conscientious reaction to the workings of the law under a middle of the road policy in which we tried to administer even-handed justice."

At the same hearing, John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers Union (Independent) and the International Typographical Union (AFL) demanded that congress junk the Taft-Hartley law fast. Both unions have collided with that law in the courts and before the NLRB.

The UMW, in a statement sent to the committee, said the T-H measure has proved to be the first ugly, savage thrust of fascism in America.

The union called Senator Taft (R-Ohio), co-author of the law, a "Lucifer of labor relations."

Woodruff Randolph, president of the ITU, appeared in person and told the committee that keeping the Taft-Hartley act on the books would "spell the doom of the free American trade union movement."

The administration's bill would repeal the T-H law and replace it with a modified Wagner act.

Randolph said Denham has administered the Taft-Hartley law "in a biased and hostile manner."

He also declared that statements he said Denham made in 1947 "indicated to me that government agencies were hostile to us."

That touched off Neely's attack on Denham, who was a committee witness for nearly 10 hours over the course of three days earlier this week.

Neely stormed that Denham in his testimony had "cried out against anything that couldn't be approved by the NAM." The national association of manufacturers is known as the NAM.

Taft demanded that Neely withdraw that statement.

Neely refused.

"I won't withdraw it. I reiterate it," Neely shouted. Then the West Virginian went on:

"I think he (Denham) is the most biased and prejudiced man I have ever heard testify."

"His conduct here as a witness was such as to impel every labor union in the United States to call for his removal."

"He has shown such bitter prejudice he has no business being on the payroll of any government agency involved in labor-management relations."

Taft said: "Perhaps anyone who tries to enforce the Taft-Hartley law or interpret it fairly is indicted as a criminal or an undesirable person."

When he was on the stand, Denham defended many provisions of the Taft-Hartley law which the administration wants scrapped.

The typographical union's chief objection to the T-H law is its ban on the closed shop, under which employers can hire only union members. For many years prior to enactment of the law the union had closed shop contracts.

Randolph told the committee that at the 1947 ITU convention, shortly after the law was passed, the union adopted a resolution which said in effect that ITU would refrain from signing any new contracts which barred the closed shop.

Washington, Oregon Coasts Hit By Storms

By the Associated Press

Snowslides and flood menace hung new trouble to the snow-burdened Northwest Thursday.

Meanwhile, high winds causing "ground blizzards" buffeted the snowbound reaches of the western plains, hindering road opening operations.

A turbulent storm lashed across Washington and Oregon into the Northern Rockies. It poured sheets of rain over the North Pacific plains and valleys, dumped heavy snowfall on the Cascade mountains and ripped down phone and power lines along the coast with gusts up to 65 miles an hour.

Comparatively mild temperatures freed snow on mountainsides, causing slides which trapped two passenger trains in the Cascades, and derailed a freight train in the Blue mountains of Oregon. Most rail traffic in the northern coast ranges was snarled and new snow-banks dammed highways.

Streams rose in eastern Washington and Oregon, and three communities had water in their streets.

Except for moderation of recent bitter cold weather, conditions remained bad in much of the snow-drifted emergency area of southern Wyoming and western Nebraska.

Winds continued to toss snow from drift crests in Wyoming, but temperatures above freezing settled much of the surface snow in southern Idaho, ending new drifting there.

Railroad snow-fighting crews made progress in Wyoming where all but five stalled passenger trains were moved from the storm-ravaged area. Three trains remained hemmed in by drifts at Rawlins, Wyo., and two still were stuck at Hanna, Wyo. The five trains held about 750 passengers.

The Union Pacific railroad announced an embargo on freight from northern Utah and Idaho which would normally be routed over snow-blocked Wyoming lines. The principal item affected was Idaho potatoes.

The phone call from Kenora, Ont., to Warroad, resulted in an aerial rescue in 30-degree below weather.

The chain of events started yesterday morning when Kenneth Carlson, 27, slipped while skidding logs, and was stepped on by his horse.

Ordinarily at least one place goes each day from Warroad to the Angle country, but yesterday there was no light. So late in the day Edison Risser took his motor-powered, propeller driven sled for Kenora, from where he phoned Dr. L. O. Pearson at Warroad.

Don Hanson, Warroad aviator, took Dr. Pearson in his cub plane, and Oliver Kellogg, editor of the Warroad pioneer, went along in his plane, a larger craft.

After giving Carlson first aid, Dr. Pearson placed him in Kellogg's plane and he was flown back to Warroad.

Following examination in Warroad hospital, Dr. Pearson said Carlson's injuries were not serious.

Between 15 and 20 of the fighters were in Moline Public hospital for treatment, but the hospital would not disclose the extent of injuries other than to say it was possible some suffered broken arms and ribs.

Plice Sgt. Clyde Holloway said he was told the bloody battle began when Farm Equipment Union workers in the plant left the day shift to find UAW workers passing out handbills. A few took the handbills and returned to the plant, later emerging in a larger group.

"We cannot entrust the government of today to second-rate men and women," declared the commission on government reorganization, headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

The report it issued to the president and congress today was the second in a series of 15. The first, issued Monday, called for merging 65 independent federal agencies into about one-third that number.

In the latest installment, the commission recommended:

"The removal of officials who show political favoritism in making appointments."

Man Puts Bodies Of Slain Wife, Friend In Cesspool

Talladega, Ala., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The nude bodies of two young women were taken from a cesspool here today as hundreds watched, frozen in horror.

A 19-year-old machinist, Herbert Hoover Gentry, was charged with the double slaying. He is a former student at Alabama school for the deaf here, but has partial speech and hearing.

The victims were his wife, Mrs. Plonnie Louise Adams Gentry, 19, and her friend, Mrs. Louise Deal, 23, of Rome Ga.

Police Chief Willis Dean said Gentry admitted in a written statement that he shot and killed the women Saturday night and threw the bodies in the cesspool behind his house. No motive was established.

Gentry said he read a crime comic book shortly before the slaying. A story in the book, Dean said, described a case somewhat similar to the double killing.

Police had been searching for the women since Monday. The bodies were found at the Gentry place shortly after noon today. Before they could be taken out, news of the gruesome discovery spread.

Says U.S. Radar Defense So Bad It Is 'Almost Blank'

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—America's air defense commander said today that the country's radar air raid warning system is so bad it is "almost a blank."

In Alaska, at Russia's back doorstep, radar protection is "totally and wholly inadequate," he said.

The officer, Maj. Gen. Gordon P. Saville, asked congress to approve a bill authorizing radar stations around our borders and some at outposts at a cost estimated up to $160,000,000.

The air force would have full responsibility for guarding the nation from a sneak air attack.

General Muir S. Fairchild, air force chief of staff, joined Saville in testimony before the House Armed Service committee that a radar screen would not mean complete protection. Saville said there is no way known to provide "absolute protection and absolute warning."

Saville said no radar warning stations are located outside the United States. He did not say where it is contemplated to establish the proposed outpost stations.

Hoover Hits 'Red Tape' In Urging Reorganization

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The Hoover commission urged today that second-raters be weeded out of government service and that the Civil Service commission be remodeled as a policy body with individual federal agencies free to select their own employees.

"We cannot entrust the government of today to second-rate men and women," declared the commission on government reorganization, headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

The report it issued to the president and congress today was the second in a series of 15. The first, issued Monday, called for merging 65 independent federal agencies into about one-third that number.

In the latest installment, the commission recommended:

GOODS BY SEA

Berlin, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The Russians intensified their efforts to circumvent the throttling allied counterblockade of eastern Germany today by obtaining western European products by sea.

The story of the fabulous Red network came from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Far East headquarters. It warned that remnants of the ring may still be operating "at this very moment."

Hungary Expels American Diplomat On Spying Charge

By Endre Marion

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Hungary expelled another United States diplomat today on charges of spying and smuggling men out of the country. Some Hungarians were reported arrested in the case.

Following the ouster of Stephen A. Kozak before the treason trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty got under way last week, the Communist-led government announced the expulsion of Robin Edwin Steussy.

Kozak was second secretary and vice consul of the U. S. legation in Budapest and its only Hungarian member. Steussy, 28-year-old native of Madison, Wis., was vice consul and third secretary.

Steussy left at noon for Vienna. Kozak went to that Austrian capital last week. He has been assigned temporarily to the U. S. legation there.

(The United States may be considering expulsion of Hungarian diplomats in retaliation for the Budapest orders. This implication appeared in a statement by Press Officer Michael J. McDermott in Washington when he was asked at a news conference if the U. S. proposed retaliation. He replied: "I'm not ready to say anything on that."

McDermott said the charges against Steussy were "entirely without foundation." The state department took the same attitude when Kozak was expelled.

Steussy told a newsmen before he left: "It's up to the state department to comment on my case, I believe."

U. S. Minister Selden Chapin declined comment. However, he denied Tuesday a charge made by presiding Judge Vilmos Olthys in sentencing Cardinal Mindszenty to a life term that the United States had meddled in Hungarian affairs. Chapin said such declarations are nonsense.

In addition to espionage work, the government charges, Kozak and Steussy "smuggled men, used cars and having bribed Dr. Tibor Gal, an officer of the customs, and some others."

Bulgaria Charges Church Leaders Spying For U.S.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A government indictment tonight charged 15 United Evangelical church leaders with spying for the intelligence services of the United States and Britain.

Fifteen top ministers are involved. The indictment accused them of espionage, high treason and violation of the foreign currency law.

(The charges are similar to those made by Hungary, another Communist-led state, against Josef Cardinal Mindszenty. He was convicted and sentenced to life.)

Represented in the United Evangelical church are Congressmen, Methodist, Baptist and Pentecost faiths.

Those indicted include: Vassil Ziapkov, religious United Evangelical churches representative and head of the Congressist church Yanko Ivanov, his deputy, who is supervisor of the Methodist churches in Bulgaria.

Nikola Mihailov, head of the Baptists.

Georgi Chernev, head of the Pentecosts.

Eleven other Evangelical church ministers.

The first four named are members of the supreme council of the Evangelical United churches in Bulgaria.

Japanese Premier Yoshida Resigns Before Reelection

Tokyo, Friday, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Premier Shigeru Yoshida formally resigned today in a perfunctory gesture preceding his probable reelection for what may be a four-year term.

Yoshida and his four-month-old cabinet notified the newly-elected diet shortly after 10 a. m. of their resignations. This is a mandatory procedure under the constitution following a general election.

The ultra-conservative premier was expected to be returned to office later in the day by well over 300 votes in the 466-seat House of representatives. He also figures to win the vote of the holdover House of councillors by a substantial majority.

This will pave the way for the coalition government of Yoshida's dominant Democratic liberals and the second-ranking Democratic party. The cabinet will be named probably next week.

At least one man killed today when an aircraft B-26 plane crashed into Waples' pond and blew up, Deaaware State Police reported.

Police said four other people were aboard the plane and were believed to have been killed. The name of the dead man, said by a spokesman at Dover Airbase to have been the pilot, was not announced.

RETIRED MINISTER DIES IN ELGIN

Elgin, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The Rev. Thomas W. Puffer, 79, retired Methodist minister, died today at Elgin hospital after a long illness.

He served as minister at Colchester, Roseville and Dallas City, Ill., before he retired 20 years ago. He lived at Crystal Lake with a son, Noble J. Puffer, former superintendent of schools of Cook county.

Truman Says A-Bomb Data Will Stay Secret

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—President Truman today expressed flat opposition to making public the number of atomic bombs this country has produced.

He told a news conference that of course he is against such disclosure and that it is not a matter for public discussion.

He added that Chairman David Lilienthal of the atomic energy commission had denied categorically to him yesterday reports that he wanted such information given to the public.

Raised By McMahon

The question of giving out more atomic data has been raised by Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the joint Senate-House atomic committee. McMahon suggested that if potential enemies knew just how far the United States has gone in atomic bomb production they would hesitate to threaten it.

But he added that he did not actually advocate making the data public "until after a most thorough and exhaustive examination on the wisdom of doing so."

In a statement today, McMahon said that as matters now stand congress knows nothing about the number of atomic bombs and hence is "not in a position to perform its constitutional duties."

In one of the briefest new conferences in weeks, Mr. Truman covered these additional subjects:

Denounces Mindszenty Trial

Hungary—he denounced the trial and conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty as "infamous" and said it would go down as one of the black spots in Hungary's history.

He criticized the government as separate from the Hungarian people. He termed Hungary a police state and said under that kind of government the people are not responsible for acts of the government. If the people had their say, he added, they wouldn't have a police state there.

The President called the tribunal that convicted the Catholic primate a kangaroo court instead of a Peoples' court and said the question whether Hungary had violated any treaties is under study. (A kangaroo court is defined in Webster's as one in which the principles of law and justice are "disregarded or perverted.")

Will Stand By Price Control

Price control—will stand by price control powers still be needed if prices continue to fall? They certainly will. They are just as necessary now as when he first asked for such authority. A proposed bill will be offered congress on it soon.

Increased taxes — would a recession make his proposed $4,000,000,000 in new taxes inadvisable? No, they would be just as advisable then as now because that would not affect the expenses of government and he is trying to avoid a deficit. He would not comment, however, on the lower price trend.

Farm price supports—an administration plan will be presented by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan as soon as congressional committees are ready to hear him.

Lincoln Day dinner—any advice on how Gov. Thomas E. Dewey may mend what Dewey called a "wide open split" in the Republican party? The President said he gave his New York opponent all the advice he possibly could in the last campaign. The reply was given with a broad grin.

How about Senator Margaret Chase Smith's remark to the same dinner that "we now have a government by pressure groups?" The President said he thought the good lady from Maine was mistaken.

Taft-Hartley repeal—he said he had not heard of a reported CIO complaint that the administration is "bungling" its repeal effort.

IHC To Lay Off Employees Soon

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—International Harvester corporation is planning employee lay-offs at its Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Springfield, Ohio, plants, the company said today.

The lay-offs will be made around the end of this month, the company said. It estimated about 10 per cent of the approximately 4,500 employees at Springfield will be dropped. At Fort Wayne, where about 5,500 are employed, the number will be larger, but no estimate was made.

SEES AIR DISPLAY

St. Louis, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt attended the city art museum's $50,000,000 display of Berlin museum masterpieces yesterday along with a record-breaking day's attendance of 13,700.

Total attendance now in 11 days of the exhibit is 115,584. The paintings will be here through Feb. 17.

Find Bodies Of 3 Missing Danville Children In Creek

Danville, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The bodies of three small children, missing since yesterday, were found today in the chilly waters of Stony Creek on the outskirts of Danville.

They were four-year-old Mary Lou Boswell; her brother, Jerry, three, and Linda Lewis, four.

Stony Creek runs through a gravel pit near a residential neighborhood. Police theorized the tots were playing on the ice of the gravel pit. The ice slants toward the creek and police believed they slipped into the stream.

All night and throughout the day, about 300 searchers had beaten through the woods and underbrush about the Vermilion river into which Stony Creek flows. Boy scouts worked in relays.

Airplanes aided the search. Mary Lou's body was found first. It was partly submerged. Her parka had caught on a tree limb. Soon afterward the bodies of the other two youngsters were found near by.

WATER

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Thursday as follows: High, 34; low, 14; and at 6 p. m., 24.

Forecast For Illinois — Friday falls land warmer. High 26 to 40.

Two Gandhi Assassins Get Death Sentences

New Delhi, India, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A heavily guarded court today sentenced two Hindu journalists to death for the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi, a man who symbolized hatred of violence to the world.

The acquitted defendant, V. D. Savarkar, was described by the prosecution as the brains of the scheme to kill Gandhi.

Sentenced to life imprisonment were: Vishnu Karkare, hotel keeper at Ahmednagar; Dattatraya Paruchuri; Gopal Godse, brother of the chief defendant; Kistayya Shankar; and Madan Lal. The judge recommended that Uthankar's sentence be commuted to seven years hard labor.

The prosecution charged the conspirators had plans to kill other Indian leaders, including Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Godse was seized on the prayer grounds the moment of the assassination with a pistol in his hands. In his trial he said he killed Gandhi "purely for the benefit of humanity."

He asked for death. Expressing respect for "Gandhi's saintliness," Godse said the Indian leader's policies "brought ruin to millions of Hindus." He is not expected to appeal the sentence.

Northern Ireland Picks Parliament In Quiet Election

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Voting ended in Northern Ireland tonight with only a few minor disorders. Predictions were that the result would favor remaining within the United Kingdom.

About 90 per cent of the 400,000 eligible voters made their choice for a new parliament.

Ballots will be counted tomorrow. The voting went quietly after the roughest political campaign in the history of Northern Ireland (Ulster).

All police leaves were cancelled until the polls closed tonight.

The Unionist party of Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke predicted it would wind up with a majority bigger than the 35-to-17 margin it held in the old parliament. Sir Basil's party favors staying with Britain in the United Kingdom. He dissolved the old parliament last month to submit the issue to the voters.

Factions which want to cut ties with Britain and strike out with Eire in the new republic hoped mainly for a good showing of strength. The issues of race and religion were factors.

Ex-GI Says 'Axis Sally' Asked Him To Make Broadcast

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A wartime American paratrooper testified today that Mildred E. "Axis Sally" Gillars plied him with 45-year-old brandy and exploited her feminine charms in seeking to have him make a Nazi radio broadcast.

She became furious, the witness said, when he told her he would rather be back in action than a German prisoner of war.

This was the testimony of Michael Evankick, 36-year-old New Yorker, as the treason trial of Miss Gillars neared the end of its third week.

The Maine-born defendant is accused in a 10-count indictment of broadcasting Nazi propaganda to aid Hitler's psychological warfare program. She had pleaded innocent.

Evankick identified Miss Gillars as the woman who interviewed him in a German prisoner-of-war camp near Paris on July 15, 1944.

Woman Injured In Purdue Bleachers Fall Sues Company

Danville, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A Hammond, Ind., woman today asked $50,000 damages for injuries she said she suffered in a bleacher collapse at Purdue University during a basketball game Feb. 24, 1947.

Shirley M. Orr sued in Federal Court against the Leavitt corporation of Urbana, bleacher manufacturer, and Bailey and Himes, campaign athletic goods concern.

She asserted she suffered permanent back injuries in the mishap, in which three persons were hurt fatally and more than 200 persons were injured.

A suit of Gene E. Catt, 24, of Lafayette, Ind., seeking $75,000 damages for injuries in the collapse, has been set for a second trial in Federal Court here March 7. The first trial resulted in a deadlocked jury.

STORM LOSSES PILE UP

(Chicago Daily Drivers Journal)

It didn't seem possible at the outset; now it appears more and more probable that storm losses in the range states will be large enough to have a bearing on future livestock markets.

While the death loss is certain to be large, that is only a part of the story, and probably not the big part when it comes to poundage. Animals that are half-starved suffer from lowered resistance to disease, and the death losses will continue for weeks; animals that are half-starved will take weeks and even months under favorable conditions to build back the flesh they have lost. Thus the full effect of the loss may not become apparent till next fall and winter.

Usually the effects of a catastrophe are exaggerated at the outset. But in this case the situation has become steadily worse as one costly storm has followed another. And the end apparently is not yet in sight.

Some feeders who have cattle are going to guess that the thing to do is to carry them along, much farther along than they had figured. Whether or not they are right in this decision only time can tell. But the storm reports keep on adding emphasis to their side of the argument.

To Speak Here

Roscoe Drummond, Washington bureau chief of the Christian Science Monitor, will speak on "The State of the Nation" Friday evening, Feb. 11, at 8:15 in Music Hall of MacMurray College.

Widely known as a platform and radio personality and keen analyst of American economic problems and political developments and their relation to international affairs, Mr. Drummond comes to Jacksonville under the auspices of MacMurray Concert-Lecture series.

Peoria Man Gets Rheumatic Relief With Rentox

Mr. Richard White, 1305 Wisconsin Ave., Peoria gets relief from pain after suffering many years.

"For the last eight or ten years I have been suffering from rheumatic pains in my back, left side and knee," writes Mr. White. "In the past my pain was so severe that my wife and I were forced to move into town and turn the farm over to our son. I also suffered from constipation and had to be careful of what I ate as the food formed gas on my stomach. After taking only one bottle of Rentox my rheumatic pains had subsided considerably and I was no longer troubled with gas forming on my stomach after eating. I believe Rentox is a wonderful medicine and would recommend it to anyone."

Let Rentox bring you quick relief as it has Mr. White. This splendid medicine contains 26 ingredients which strike at the roots of many conditions. It relieves constipation in a few hours and tones your bowels into a more rhythmic action. You look better, feel better, sleep better—in fact you feel like a new person. Rentox helps rheumatic pain, expels blood and gas. Helps to build rich red blood, helps kidneys and bladder, stops getting up nights. Why not go to your druggist today and get a bottle of Rentox. Be sure you get what you ask for, don't be "switched" to another product.

Dramatist To Be Guest At Woman's Club Meeting

The Jacksonville Woman's club will have one of its most outstanding cultural programs Saturday afternoon when "Dramatic Moments in the Lives of Famous Women" will be interpreted by Joyce Lander Johnson, noted dramatist.

JOYCE LANDER JOHNSON

Mrs. Johnson's appearance is in connection with a colonial tea which will follow the regular program meeting, to be held in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel at 2:30 p.m.

A descendant of Harriett Beecher Stowe, Mrs. Johnson has gained much recognition for her dramatic achievements. She was graduated from Illinois college and received her master's degree in speech from the University of Wisconsin. She has been dramatics teacher and coach in a number of high schools and has appeared in dramatic recitals before a great many clubs and organizations.

She will be introduced to the group by Mrs. H. Gary Hudson, chairman of the day. Also included on the program will be a group of songs by Miss Elizabeth Neils and colonial selections by the Woman's club sextette.

Mrs. Johnson will appear in a colonial costume of her great great grandmother. Club members having colonial costumes are also asked to wear them. Formal attire may also be worn, although dress is optional.

Those presiding at the tea table, Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, Mrs. O. M. Olsen and Miss Olive Burnett, will also wear colonial dresses.

Moose, Jay-Cees To Sponsor Dance For Young People

A Valentine dance will be held at the Youth Center Saturday night, under the sponsorship of the Moose Lodge and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Ted Six and his orchestra. The hours are from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

This event, made possible through the combined efforts of the Moose Lodge and the Jay-Cees, will be free of charge. All high school students and young adults in the county are invited to attend.

RUSSIAN STAGE FOOTBALL LANCE

Moscow—(P)—The well known ballet master, Igor Moissev, has produced a football dance, which is described as a sensation.

There are goals at both ends of the stage and the dancers are the players. Although they play with no ball the soccer is described as "exciting."

The dancers are dressed in soccer uniforms.

THIS IS NATIONAL FIG WEEK

Pound for pound, there are few foods that compare with the succulent fig in nutritive values: their content of blood building iron is high. The form of sugar in dried figs offers nutritional virtues and easy digestion because of the natural laxative properties.

Dried figs are popular for eating as a confection. However, quick cooking is now the preferred method for prepared figs. Serve figs with hot cereals, use them in making cookies and cakes, or stuff them with nuts, fondant, or marshmallows for a delightful treat.

Bounty Paid On 465 Fox Pelts In Jersey County

Jerseyville—Truman Wable of the Richwoods Township locality brought four fox pelts to the office of County Clerk Grover Pearce Monday afternoon to collect the county bounty of two dollars per scalp. Pearce reported Tuesday morning that the bounty has been paid out on four hundred sixty-five scalps during the time since the bounty became effective last September 1. It is believed that Jersey county, although one of the smallest counties in area in the state of Illinois, leads in the number of foxes caught during the past trapping season. A number of other trappers and hunters have pelts to be delivered for the county bounty, and Pearce stated he expected to see the number of scalps presented reach the five hundred mark within a short time.

Sold to Swift for $1,883,823,473.00

Quick Facts on Swift's Business in 1948

Total Sales $2,361,114,041

Swift's average sales dollar was spent as follows:

For Livestock & Other Agricultural Products	79.8 cts.
For Employees' Wages & Salaries	9.6 cts.
For Supplies	4.0 cts.
For Transportation	2.0 cts.
For Taxes	1.5 cts.
For Other Business Expenses	1.9 cts.
Total spent out of each average dollar	98.8 cts.
Remaining as Earnings for Swift	1.2 cts.
Total	100 cents

Because your business of farming and ranching is so closely related to our business of meat packing, we believe you are interested in an accounting of Swift & Company's operations in 1948. On this page we tell you how much money we received, how we spent this money, and how much we earned for services performed.

The past year was reasonably profitable to both producers and Swift & Company. That's the way it should be in America. A fair profit to producers means better living and insures a sound program on farms and ranches. A fair profit to business in cities and towns helps maintain purchasing power and markets for the products which you and Swift have to sell.

In 1948, Swift & Company paid nearly two billion dollars for agricultural products. We processed and distributed nationwide this output of your land and labor... cattle, calves, hogs, lambs, dairy and poultry products, soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts and other products of agriculture. For these we paid out 79.8 cents from each dollar we received from the sale of our products.

HOW THE DOLLAR WAS DIVIDED

In America a business is operated to serve the public, and to earn a profit for its owners. In 1948, Swift earned $27,889,210 net profit. That was an average of 1.2 cents out of each dollar we received from the sale of our products. Who got the balance of 98.8 cents? It went to people who work directly in the livestock-meat industry, to additional thousands in other businesses.

- 1. The major cost of meat packing is the purchase of livestock and other agricultural products. Swift paid $1,883,823,473 to farmers and ranchers last year. You, the producers, received 79.8 cents out of each average dollar we took in from sales.
- 2. Swift & Company employs 73,000 men and women to provide the services producers, retailers and consumers demand. The employees look to their company for regular, gainful employment. They earned $226,154,019 in wages and salaries in 1948... or 9.6 cents of each average sales dollar.
- 3. Supplies of all kinds—sugar, salt, spices, containers, fuel, electricity cost us $94,809,928. These supplies are furnished by other businesses. Our purchases from them created work and wages for many more Americans. This took 4 cents of our average sales dollar.
- 4. Transportation charges are a necessary item of expense, and a large one, too. Meats are moved an average of 1,000 miles from farm and ranch to market. During 1948, in distributing our products to cities, towns and villages, Swift & Company spent $46,702,457 for transportation by rail and motor. This amounted to 2.0 cents of each average dollar of sales income.
- 5. Government expenses—fire and police protection, national defense, roads, social security, public education, etc.—are all paid out of taxes. Swift's tax bill for the year was $35,220,291. The Federal Government and each of the 48 states collected some of this amount. And taxes were paid in hundreds of municipalities where our plants and properties are located. Federal, state and local taxes took 1.5 cents of our average sales dollar.
- 6. More than 200,000 retail store operators look to Swift for a regular supply of meats and other Swift products. We help build retailers' trade by developing nationwide consumer markets. Our research laboratories and test kitchens also help create consumer demand. Depreciation, interest and other expenses common to every business, add to this total. All these cost $46,514,663 or 1.9 cents of the average dollar of sales.

That's the story of the division of Swift's average dollar received from sales. Of that dollar, 98.8 cents went to other people or businesses. The 1.2 cents left is our return for processing, marketing and distributing meats and other products for millions of American families. Out of this return—or net earnings—our 64,000 shareholders, men and women who invested their savings in the Company, received dividends which took 7/10 of a cent of the average sales dollar. The balance of 1/2 cent was retained to provide for future needs of the Company.

Management's Role in Modern Farming
by O. R. Johnson
University of Missouri, Columbia

Better farm management can give startling results. If managed as well as the best 20% of the farms are managed, output of the average acre could be doubled. In most areas the output of pasture land could be increased three or four times. Our cleverest feeders get 60% more out of their feed than do average feeders. Production per cow, sow or hen could be increased 50% to 100% if animals and methods as good as those used by the top 20% of our farmers were employed by all farmers.

There are two ways of achieving higher production per acre without increasing costs. The most practical method is to raise the level of management efficiency without increasing present working forces per farm. The other method is for the farm family, with modern power and machinery, to farm more acres. This second method has obvious limitations. For there would not be enough acres to go around without eliminating many farm families. Do we want larger farm units and reduced farm population? Many think not.

However, many farmers are now faced with adopting either one or the other of the above methods. Farmers must meet today's high operating costs and still maintain living standards without forcing prices beyond the reach of the average consumer. Consumers cannot be expected to support, indefinitely, inefficient farm output by paying the high prices such inefficiency demands.

Hunters Donate Bounty Fees To March Of Dimes

The proceeds derived from the bounty paid on a wolf and a fox have been donated to the March of Dimes by nine Morgan county hunters.

The varmints were killed in a hunt Monday afternoon west of Prentice, near Indian Creek. For the scalps, the hunters received $13 which they turned over to the March of Dimes.

The hunters were Bob Foster, Hugh Norfleet, Junior Norfleet, Dean McQueen, Otis Keltner, Leo Fuchs, Lloyd Meyer, Vince Hermes and Joe Fitzsimmons.

The first European country to give women full suffrage was Finland, in 1906.

Business Magazine Carries Article By Clarendon Smith

A three-page article entitled "Personnel: Nonacademic" by Clarendon Smith, business manager of MacMurray college, appears in a recent issue of College and University Business, a magazine published by the nation's schools division of the Modern Hospital Publishing Co. Mr. Smith's picture is also carried in the column "Among the Authors," with a biographical sketch which includes his former connection as advertising manager with the Journal Courier.

In "Personnel: Nonacademic," Mr. Smith considers the importance for a college, particularly a small college, of friendly and satisfactory relations between the management and the non-instructional employees, "people who, in addition to operating the physical plant and (other) properties, record all dealings . . . and handle all funds and equipment."

He indicates desirable employee and employer attitudes and lists ten essential elements of an adequate personnel program. Among them are job analysis, fair and livable wages and salaries, good working conditions, good supervision, steady employment, opportunities for education and training, effective administration practices, and employee information.

At several points Mr. Smith contrasts these employees with workers in industry. Since college workers are not covered by Social Security at present, the college should, if at all financially able, provide adequate retirement plans and other benefits. He contrasts the ability of industry, a profit institution, to meet constant demands for wage raises with that of the college, a non-profit institution. And unlike the rough-and-tumble atmosphere of industry, "the people among whom our workers daily move are not entirely their fellow workers. They are (young) academic students and . . . academic faculty members. . . Obviously, such employees are not in the ordinary world of industrial labor. Instead, they are in a world where politeness, not servility, and character, not egotism, take precedence . . . the essentially dignified domestic undertaking of keeping house for a small college."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Benefit Dance At Winchester For March Of Dimes

A March of Dimes benefit dance will be held in the Winchester high school gymnasium on Saturday, Feb. 12, from 9 p. m. to midnight. All of the proceeds from this affair will be turned over to the March of Dimes campaign. Dance music will be furnished by Dalhaus' Music Masters of Bluffs.

Flavor you'll be proud of
FLAKORN
CORN MUFFIN MIX

The sophomores are sponsoring the dance and tickets can be bought in advance from any sophomore student. Tickets will also be sold at the door.
The decorative theme will be red, white and blue since these are the March of Dimes colors and this is also the date of Lincoln's birthday. The "snack bar" will be operated by Shirley Thomas, chairman; Ken Lawson and Jim Dolen. Advertising is in charge of Katherine Saffer, chairman; Carole Dunham, Bernard Evans, Geraldine Garrison, and Ralph Reynolds.

WHITE HALL

White Hall—Alvin Gibson, Sr., and son, Alvin, Jr., spent Sunday morning in this city and visited with several friends. Mr. Gibson and family left here in 1934 and are now living in Louisville, Ky., where he is an attorney at law. This is their first visit here in 15 years. They also spent Saturday in Roadhouse with friends and relatives.

James Branson of this city went to Beardstown Thursday on his new assignment for the Central Illinois Public Service company. Mr. Branson will soon be working at Macomb where his headquarters will be after finishing his work in Beardstown. Willard Theabaud of this city has been named as successor to Mr. Bronson in this city.

Miss Dorothy M. Young spent the week end visiting friends in St. Louis.

Mr. Richard Rigg and son, Ricky, of North Hollywood, Calif., accompanied her mother-in-law, Mrs. W. A. Rigg of Hillview, on her return home after spending six weeks in California.

Mr. and Mrs. George Book have received word of the birth of a daughter on Jan. 25 to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Book at the University hospital in Columbus, Mo. Mrs. Book is the former Jeanne Mollcoat, daughter of Mrs. Oliver Sooley of Murrayville.

Questions And Answers ON Service To Veterans

(This is another in a series of questions and answers regarding the rights of ex-servicemen and their families, as answered by Keith C. Peabody, Veterans Employment Representative, Illinois State Employment Service, 211 East Morgan street. For further information contact Mr. Peabody.)

Question: If my brother fails to report for a physical examination which has been ordered by the Veterans Administration, would that affect his compensation payments?
Answer: Yes. Upon failure to report for examination, without adequate reason, an award of disability compensation may be suspended. If you subsequently report for the physical examination, retroactive payments over the intervening period may be precluded unless you can supply evidence that clearly establishes that your disability, in fact, existed to a compensable degree during such period.

Question: When a paraplegic receives a $10,000 federal grant to build a home designed for a "wheel-chair living" must such a veteran report the amount on his federal income tax return?

Answer: No, the grant is considered to be a gratuity and it is not required that it be reported on the recipient's federal tax return.

Question: When I first entered the army I was unmarried. Some months later I married and immediately applied for a family allowance for my wife. It was not until some months later that I learned our marriage was not legal because my wife had not received her final divorce decree. The Family Allowance Division of the Army now wants me to repay the payments made between my original application and the date when we were subsequently married legally (after the divorce decree was final). Is this in accordance with regulations?

Answer: We are sorry to have to tell you that the fact that your original family allowance was approved would not relieve you from the liability incurred by receipt of such improper payments by your wife between your original application and your legal marriage. Since she was not lawfully entitled to these payments, the government must demand repayment.

LETTER-WRITING LEATHERNECK

San Diego, Calif.—(AP)—Marine Cpl. Ernest Leder, a clerk typist, has written what is believed to be one of the longest letters ever set down by a Marine. It contained 64 pages of 8 by 13 inch paper, written in long hand, and took the inspired young leatherneck a total of 16 hours to write.

This was not the first longest letter Cpl. Leder has written. A few weeks ago he sat down and in about ten hours wrote 40 pages. The epistles, as you might imagine, are written to the corporal's girl friend, of Machias, New York.

New Zealand, in 1839, became the first country in the world to grant women complete suffrage.

MEREDOSIA

Mrs. Henry Allen was taken to Schmitt Memorial hospital, Beardstown for the second time in less than two weeks. Mrs. Allen returned home Jan. 31 from the hospital after having been a patient for three weeks with pneumonia. She is now being treated for a blood clot in the lung.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ernest and little Stephen, who recently moved to Greenfield, Indiana, returned Thursday for another load of their belongings. Mr. Ernest has taken a position with Gibbs and Hill, Inc. in Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmitt were Beardstown visitors Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Delbert returned from Taylorville where they spent several days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schmitt of Springfield spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Irene Schmitt and Mrs. Orah Butcher.

Mrs. Hal Naylor was a Monday morning visitor in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Steinberg returned Saturday from a week's vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burrus and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wegehoff left Tuesday on a vacation trip to Florida.

Rev. and Mrs. Russell Coulter and son, Wesley, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Naylor expect to leave next week for a tour of the southern states.

Drive-In Theater To Be Built Here Soon

A new drive-in theater with a 500-car capacity is expected to be erected in the Jacksonville community within the next few months. It was learned Thursday when articles of incorporation were issued to the Central Amusement Corporation of this city.

The incorporators are Edward Bonacorsi, Howard F. Busey and Elmore Suter.

The corporation was formed for the purpose of owning and operating drive-in theaters and motion picture theaters. It was authorized to issue 1,000 shares of common par value stock of $100 per share, all of which, it is understood, will be owned by the corporation.

Attorney Edward J. Flynn represented the incorporators in application for the charter.

When asked Thursday concerning plans for the new enterprise, Mr. Bonacorsi stated that the location of the building site and other details will be announced later. He said ground for the new theater probably will be broken within the next few weeks.

S. C. Neighbors Club Has Meeting At Hopper Home

Salem W.S.C.S. Honors Member With Shower

A shower honoring Mrs. Jeanne Pruehner was the highlight of the meeting of the Salem W.S.C.S., held at the home of Mrs. Ella Hamilton.

Assisting Mrs. Hamilton were Mrs. Vivian Parlier, Mrs. Floy Stubblefield and Mrs. Marietta Standish. A potluck dinner was served, followed by the regular business session.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Addie Rawlings. Mrs. Bertha Davies read an article on "Substitutes of God" by Stanley Jones.

Roll call was an exchange of Valentines. Three new members, Mrs. T. B. Ranson, Mrs. Grace Doyle and Mrs. Irene Boatman, were received by the society.

Mrs. Ruth Davies, program chairman, then introduced Mrs. Marietta Standish, who gave several readings. Contests were enjoyed, with prizes being won by Miss Mary Margaret Wax, Mrs. Vivian Parlier, Mrs. Floy Stubblefield and Mrs. Marietta Standish.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Mabel Robinson, Miss Margaret Stubblefield, Mrs. Hildene Matson, Mrs. Herbie Matson, Misses Patsy and Judy Davies and Carol Pruehner.

FOUR NEW MEMBERS
Four new members were accepted by Alpha Tri-Y at its regular meeting Tuesday. The new members are Bobette Hankla, Patsy Shannon, Beth Arman and Helena Dietz. Slides on Japan were shown by Bill Lucas, former J.H.S. student.

The throne of Japan was the prize in a wrestling match, in 858, between two sons of the Emperor Bantoku.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some thyroid disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges," common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

Host Club, Meredosia Will Play In Finals Of Arenzville Meet

Finals Tonight
Ashland vs. Chapin (consolation 7 p.m.)
Arenzville vs. Meredosia (championship 8 p.m.)

Arenzville—The Arenzville and Meredosia grade school quintets eliminated Ashland and Chapin in the semi-final round of the Arenzville grade school tournament last night and gained the right to tangle for the title this evening.

The host five barely sneaked under the wire in the initial semi-final contest against the Ashland kid cagers, when they pulled out on the long end of a 24 to 23 count at the bell. Nickel, with 8 tallies, was tops for the winners and Price collected the same number for Ashland.

Dosh Wins Second Fray
The second fray was another low-scoring thriller with the Dosh bunch

finally annexing a 19 to 13 decision from the Chapin crew. Yeagle earned 13 markers to lead Meredosia, while Aufdenkamp's 6 was the best any Chapin lad could do.

Recreation Club Awards Softball Park Concession

The Jacksonville Recreation club held its regular meeting at the Jay-Cee restaurant Thursday evening at 6:30.

Bids for the concession stand at the local softball park for the ensuing summer months were opened and considered by the club. After careful consideration the group selected the bid submitted by Matt Fortado, who had charge of that same stand at the park last summer.

President Wally Baptist announced to the club that committees for the coming season would be appointed at the next regular meeting, which will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 24 at the Jay-Cee Cafe.

The members present voted that a treasurer's report and the financial condition of the club should be published in the very near future.

The group wound up the meeting by considering names of prospective members that have been submitted to the club. These persons will be invited to the next meeting.

Willing Workers Meet At Chapin

Chapin—The Loyal Willing Workers class of the Christian church met at the church with Mrs. Beulah McDaniel, Miss Maude White and Miss Irene Hamilton as hostesses. There were ten members present.

The president, Miss Maude White, called the meeting to order. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Patriotic quotations were read. Mrs. Irene Hamilton read the scripture. After the business, the program leader, Mrs. Joe Lashmet, took charge. Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Lashmet, Miss Irene Hamilton, Mrs. Elva Thorndike, Mrs. Lina Detmer, Mrs. Edna Ober and Miss Ruth Hutches.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Blueboys Gain Tie For Top Spot In CCI Loop; Beat Lake Forest

By Bob Morris

Well, the time has come—Once again we go out on the olde limber and do a little prognosticating on the local Regional basketball tournament which gets under way on the ISD slats March 1 and continues through to the 4th.

But first, let's work up to a look at the eight teams entered in the local event. Routt, ISD, Jacksonville high, Virginia, Ashland, Waverly and the Arenzville district winner will class for the Regional crown at the weekend stadium.

Paired according to ratings, we find Routt tangle with ISD in the opening first-round bout. They are followed by JHS vs. New Berlin, Virginia vs. Ashland, and Waverly vs. the district winner.

Looking at the schedule, it seems that Routt, Virginia, Jacksonville high, Waverly, ISD, Ashland, New Berlin and the Arenzville winner are slated to finish in that order.

However, in checking past performances of the fives, we see that ISD has whipped Routt and the Crimsons in scheduled tussles, and since the Jacks have defeated Virginia twice to date, that puts the Tigers in a favorable position over the strongest ranking quintets. The Wilsonmen also own wins over New Berlin and Waverly in previous tilts this winter.

The Rockets, rated number one in the meet, have been bumped off by both ISD and Virginia in early encounters, and boast a one-point victory over the JHS bunch.

There's a picture of the teams already slated for tournament competition, but there's one we saved for last. The Arenzville district winner, resting in that bottom niche, is going to be a tough nut for the larger schools to crack. And in making our decision we'll say that we don't believe any of the other seven crews in the meet have big enough hammers to do the job. Yep, you guessed it—the Arenzville district winner is our choice to grab top honors in the ISD Regional.

Now, who's going to win the district meet at the little Cass county coliseum come Feb. 22-25. The host five and Chambersburg are the outstanding crews in the meet. The two quintets have split contests on their regular schedules—each won on its home floor—so this appears to give Arenzville the edge in the tournament, cause it will be staged on their boards.

However, Eldon Atwood's lads from the Burg haven't let us down yet. We picked 'em to win the Virginia and PMBC tournaments—and we're going to stick by the Red Raiders in this season's windup tilt.

It's Chambersburg in the district and Chambersburg in the Regional from this corner—Now who's going to say that limb off? Six different teams are going to get a chance to prove me wrong before I'm proved right.

Al Miller's Blueboys journey to Lake Forest for a CCI conference hardwood bout tonight. Al's boys are second in the loop with 4 wins and 1 loss. Wesleyan, with a 5-1 standing, is top dog at the present time. A win tonight will put the Hilltoppers right up there with the leaders in the little-nine, and with a little more effort they may be able to shove Wesleyan right out of the picture. They come off at Concordia tonight for a tilt with Concordia on the ISD floor. This is the next to last game appearance the Blueboys will make—so fans who haven't seen them perform this year had better get there early and stay late.

Lake Forest—Al Miller's Illinois College Blueboys climbed into a tie with Illinois Wesleyan for top spot in the Little Nine basketball league last night when they handed last-place Lake Forest a 63 to 48 setback.

The Wesleyan cagers and the Hilltoppers have each won five games and lost only a single conference tilt. The Foresters have dropped seven consecutive CCI decisions.

Miller Men Start Slow
The Miller men started slow against the Lake Forest aggregation. None of the IC cagers had much luck with his shots and at the halftime bell, Miller says his crew deadlocked in a 31-31 tie with the cellar-dwelling club.

The Hilltoppers came out strong after the 10 minute break, and rushed into a decisive advantage in just a matter of a few minutes. Bill Shouse started getting the range with his one-hander from far out, and with Don Longer and Bill Gross, playing sterling rebounding and defensive games, the Blueboys squeaked the host aggregation's threat and rolled on to an easy win.

Miller Uses Every Cager
The Jacksonville college's tutor used all of his players in annexing this CCI victory, although only the starting five were able to break into the scoring column.

Jacksonville fans are given their next-to-last chance to see the Blueboys perform on the local floor Saturday night when the Miller men entertain Concordia of St. Louis on the ISD slats in a non-conference tussle which is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

DP And Taylorville Will Meet For Crown In Grade Tournament

Finals Tonight
I.S.D. vs. Winchester (consolation 7 p.m.)
David Prince vs. Taylorville (championship 8:15 p.m.)

The host five and Taylorville won the right to compete for the championship in the Jacksonville Junior high school invitational basketball tournament at the DP gym last night by annexing wins from the Winchester and I.S.D. kid cagers in the semi-final bout.

Merle Wade's lads had all the trouble they wanted from the Winchester boys in the initial semi-bout last evening. The little Scott county crew, composed of four Lashmet brothers and a McLaughlin stayed even with the bigger local lads for the first few minutes of play, and only trailed 7 to 4 at the mid quarter break in the first half.

Picks Up Steam
The Jacksonville five got going in the second frame, however, and pulled into a 20 to 7 lead at the intermission. A slight Winchester surge in the last canto brought the count up to 41 to 26 before the final horn sounded.

Beasley and Harrell each counted 11 markers for the winners, while D. Lashmet led Winchester with 16 tallies.

Taylorville edged out the other Jacksonville team, I.S.D., in the last semi-final tilt by a 41 to 26 margin. Both teams started the battle cold, and it was simply a case of Taylorville warming up first, as they shot into a 23 to 8 advantage at halftime, after a very slow first quarter.

Taylorville continued to pour it on the Junior Tigers after the intermission, and coasted in to an easy win to gain the right to play David Prince for the championship tonight.

John Conant To Present Trophies
Immediately after the final tilt this evening, trophies will be presented to first, second and third place teams by John Conant, principal of the local junior high school. The awards were donated by the Jacksonville Journal Courier Co.

The DP band, under the direction of James Welsh, will again be on hand to furnish music at every interval.

Rockets Play Host To Bluffs Tonight; Crimsons, ISD Travel

The Routt Rockets attempt to get back on the ball with their cage strategy tonight when they entertain the Bluffs Bluejays on the Our Saviour's floor in a PMBC conference tilt. Both JHS and I.S.D. take to the highway this evening for hardwood bouts with Catlinville and Mt. Sterling fives.

Paul Stroud's outfit from the east end of town has been stymied in its last four cage appearances this season. After dropping the semi-final bout in the PMBC tournament to Chambersburg, the Rockets have failed to chalk up a single win against Virginia, Meredosia and Chambersburg fives in late contests.

Rockets' Record Is 9-6
Whereas the Stroudmen had been riding high on a 9 and 2 record before the PMBC meet, they know own a season's standing of 9 wins and 6 losses.

The Bluffs aggregation enjoys the distinction of being the only quintet in the league that has failed to mark a single win this season. They met the Rockets in the first-round of the loop tournament at I.S.D. and lost by a decisive margin.

The Routt team will stand by its regular starting lineup with Sonny Longman and Paul Kennedy at the forwards, Paul Saner in the pivot post, Joe Murphy at A. J. Spreen in other guard spots. The preliminary will begin at 7, with the main go slated for 8 p.m.

Crimsons To Catlinville
Bob Kraushaar's Crimsons: five takes a long trip to Catlinville this evening for an encounter with the Macoupin county five. The J.H.S. bunch has not claimed a victory on the boards since they edged Mt. Sterling 43 to 40 Jan. 11. Since that win, the Jacks have lost to Routt, Havas, Feishans, I.S.D., Pittsfield and Winchester, and now own a season's record of 6 wins and 12 defeats.

Kraushaar is looking to next year in this '49 season rounds the far turn and comes down the back stretch, and will probably use a team composed mainly of underclassmen the remainder of his slate. He plans to start Rolyn Trotter and Harvey Meyer at the forwards, Dick Gotschal at center, with Dave Busby and Gene Todd in the guard positions.

Tigers Are Getting Hot
Things are looking up for Spike Wilson's five out westend way since they suddenly caught fire in the PMBC event and edged out Mt. Sterling in the semi-finals, only to go against Chambersburg in the championship fray where they were forced to take second honors by the Atwood coached crew.

Spike takes his Tiger five over to Brown county tonight for a return engagement with the Green Hornets of Mt. Sterling high school. The melee is slated a PMBC conference tilt and should prove to be a battle royal. The Wilsonmen hold a record of 12 wins and 7 losses so far this winter.

The I.S.D. mentor will out Leo Ceel, Alta Hood, Irwin Carlstedt, Bill Yates and Stanley Kwatt on the floor to start the ball game tonight.

Paris, Danville Collide Saturday In Top Prep Tilt

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10.—(P)—Two Kingpins in eastern Illinois prep basketball circles collide Saturday in what should be a sizzling match.

The game, which sends Paris to Danville, attracts top attention on the weekend high school cage program.

On paper, the nod goes to Danville's Maroons with their 18-2 record and apparent ability to pour in the points at will. But Paris, as Danville supporters well know, is capable of upsetting the best.

The Paris club was jarred last week by a loss to Robinson, its third defeat in 24 starts, then bounced right back with two lopsided victories.

Elgin Heavy Favorite
The top rated Elgin outfit is a heavy favorite to make Joliet its 16th straight victim Friday. After this encounter, only four more schools took Elgin's drive for a perfect chart during the regular season.

Sterling's Warriors, breezing along with a spotless 17-game slate, run into Ottawa Friday and East Rockford Saturday. Of the two opponents, East Rockford probably will cause the most worry.

A third unbeaten contender—the Wooden Shoes of Teutopolis—figures to carry off victory No. 23 Friday without much trouble. The challenger is Stewardson, a team which Teutopolis smacked down by 41 points in December.

Rams To Seek No. 20
The Mt. Vernon Rams, regarded as the far south's chief threat for the state title, tackle West Frankfort Friday in seeking their 20th win compared with two reverses. West Frankfort shows 12 triumphs and 10 losses, but lately has been knocking off some of the favorites.

On Saturday night, Herrin aims to expand its 16-2 record at West Frankfort's expense.

Peoria Manual's up and coming Rams have their work cut out this week. Mattoon is expected to provide a strong test Friday and East Peoria promises to be no pushover Saturday. Manual has whipped East Peoria before, but only by three points.

Kankakee (18-2) is favored over Lockport, DeKalb (18-2) over Princeton, Oak Park (12-2) over Highland Park, and Dundee (17-2) over Naperville, all are Friday games.

IC Women's Squad To Fence Saturday

The women's foil team of the Illinois College fencing squad will journey to Godfrey Saturday for a dual match with fencers of the Monticello Seminary. Starting time is 7 p.m.

I. C. team members include Shirley Hemminger, captain, Joan Sheehan, Peggy Foreman and Betsy Jost. Professor Walter Gaylor is coach.

The only other tournament participated in by the I.C. women was held Jan. 22, when they fended the St. Louis Y.W.C.A. squad.

GRAINS RALLY FROM MID-MORNING SLUMP TO SCORE ADVANCES

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(P)—Grains advanced on the Board of Trade today, despite one sinking spell which developed in mid-morning. At that time soybeans fell several cents and other commodities weakened. But the market quickly rallied.

Activity was reduced from yesterday and price changes much less frequent. The commodity exchange authority reported that dealings yesterday in all grains totaled $2,176,000 bushels, a very large amount. Of this, 33,602,000 bushels was in corn.

The market's underlying firmness today was attributed by traders to technical conditions, Agriculture Secretary Brannan's re-assuring statement late yesterday, a boost in the government corn buying premium, and a statement by Commerce Secretary Sawyer that limitations on fats and oils exports would soon be removed.

Receipts were: wheat 5 cars, corn 158, oats 9 and soybeans 8.

Wheat closed 11-31 higher, May $21.21-21.13, corn was 2 to 2 1/2 higher, May $1.24-1.3, oats were 1-11 higher, May 65-65 1/2, rye was 6 1/2 higher, May $1.32-1.3, soybeans were 1 cent lower to 1 cent higher, March $21.9-21.81, and lard was 10 to 30 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.15.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP PLANS ACTIVITIES

New York Stock Market

New York, Feb. 10.—(P)—Downward tendencies in the stock market gained momentum as trading progressed today.

Losses ranged from fractions to more than a point after an early attempt to get ahead failed.

Business picked up a trifle on the downside with turnover at the rate of around 900,000 shares for the full session.

The failure of grains to hold morning advances may have influenced the trend although in the past few days violent price changes in commodity exchanges made little impression.

Farnsworth Television and I.T.&T. were among the most widely traded issues. Farnsworth dropped sharply while I.T.&T., up for a while, later retreated.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Acme Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, Goodrich, American Telephone, Electric Power & Light, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, Radio Corp., and Standard Oil (N.Y.).

Corporate bonds moved narrowly in sluggish trade. U. S. governments held steady.

This Must Be Der Tag

Christopher Janus will cause some raised eyebrows with this license plate, with the letters H-I-T-L-E-R on it. Janus, a Chicago importer, owns Adolf Hitler's five-ton armored Mercedes-Benz limousine, and decided he should have a distinctive tag to go with it.

INDIA MAY BOOST RADIO PRODUCTION

New Delhi —(AP)—A government committee has recommended that Indian manufacture of radio sets be stepped up sharply.

The committee proposes that 50,000 inexpensive sets and 20,000 expensive ones be built in India this year. Production would be expanded to 150,000 sets by 1951.

The committee also suggests that sets whose landed cost is $65 or less be imported on a quota basis. If India's yearly consumption was 50,000 sets and Indian factories were turning out 30,000, only the balance of 20,000 would be permitted to enter the country.

At present, British, Dutch and American radios dominate the market here.

INDIA SEES ALCOHOL BONANZA

New Delhi —(AP)—India can increase eighteen times her present annual output of 3,000,000 gallons of power alcohol.

An official development committee reported to the government that 530,000 tons of sugar molasses available annually from Indian sugar factories could yield 53,000,000 gallons of power alcohol. The molasses is thrown away now.

Experiment is being conducted in India whether alcohol by itself could be used as motor fuel. Presently it is mixed with gasoline in the ratio of one to four.

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller

THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, who show winners of an expensive-paid work at a swank resort, are visited by Homer Anglin as they dress for dinner in their cottage. Anglin, saying he made a mistake, later, as Johnny and Sin dine, a Queen of Diamonds on which was written "Your deal," is left at their table. While searching for the waiter, Anglin appears, faintly wounded. Anglin tells Johnny, "You already got it," before he dies. Barselou, the cafe manager, seems anxious to know what Anglin said. Then Johnny and Sin and their cottage occupied by Faye Jordan and their luggage moved to the cottage next door. Gayner, the hotel clerk, says that Mr. Trim, a representative of the quiz-show sponsor, had given him permission to move the luggage since Gayner had overlooked Miss Jordan's prior reservation specifying "Cottage 15."

JOHN HENRY stopped pacing around in Cottage 14 and plopped down on the bed beside Sin. "I know how you feel, honey." She was lying across it, fully dressed, and he stroked her hair gently.

"I'd rather we planned our own evenings. When everything happens at once, I get confused. When I get confused, I get scared. What's so special about Cottage 15 anyway?"

"Beats me."

"That Jordan girl's crazy."

"Sure. Just don't worry, cutie."

"There were two light taps on the living room door. 'There's our boy now.'"

He was right. Mr. Trim stood blinking on the porch, brown eyes as limpid as ever.

"Come in, Mr. Trim," Conover greeted him. "My wife wanted to see you."

The tooth-paste man sidled in apprehensively, turning his flat straw hat around and around with nervous fingers.

"First of all, let me say I'm awfully sorry the misunderstanding arose—" he began in his high, precise voice.

"We are, too," said Sin, padding in from the bedroom in her stocking feet.

"I tried high and low to find you when Mr. Gayner came to me earlier with the problem. But you had gone somewhere."

"Thinking," the hardening John Henry put in, "that our personal property would be safe while we were gone."

"Mr. Gayner was so wrought up—I couldn't refuse—" The wizened representative scrutinized the inside of his hat as if he had notes there. "It's my fault. I didn't realize a different cottage would actually make any difference to you. It must have been quite a shock to find your clothes gone and—"

"It was," John Henry said grimly. "But not so much of a shock as it was to find all our things had been searched."

Mr. Trim sat down abruptly. "Searched?"

"Uh-huh."

"Oh, no!"

Sin said scornfully, "Oh, yes! We wouldn't say so otherwise."

"You see, Mr. Trim—whoever searched our stuff did it in a hurry. Everything's in a mess."

"I'm flabbergasted." Trim fanned himself with his straw hat. "I'm more than flabbergasted."

"Johnny, maybe you should tell Mr. Trim the whole story."

Her husband's head came up in surprise. "You think we should?"

"He might have an idea."

"Well," doubted John Henry. He regarded Trim's anxious expression narrowly. Then he attacked the story, wandering back and forth in front of the other man, trying to remember everything that mattered. The wounded prowler, the robbed waiter, the playing card queen, Barselou's hostile attitude . . . Only when

Alex Murray, 61, Native Of Scott, Dies Yesterday

Alex Murray died at his residence, 33 Davenport street, at 6 p.m. Thursday. He had been suffering from a heart ailment since November.

He was born in Winchester on Aug. 29, 1887, a son of Alexander and Louella Murphy Murray.

Unmarried, he made his home with his half-brother, Russell R. Murphy.

He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Dobson and Mrs. Martha Webb, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Mary Casey and Mrs. Anna Jones, all of Jacksonville.

Mr. Murray was a member of Centenary Methodist church.

The remains were taken to the Williamson Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Attorney Asserts Leadership Bears Responsibilities

Attorney Harry G. Story was guest speaker Tuesday evening at the February meeting of the Democratic Women's club at Hamilton's cafe. His subject was the "Responsibilities of Leadership."

According to Attorney Story, "Communism could come to this country if the leaders fail. It follows that it is the responsibilities of a good citizen to keep informed and help combat communistic rumors."

The pledge of Allegiance, led by Mrs. Earl Rexroat opened the meeting which was conducted by Miss Hazel Strawn, president. Six new members, Miss Vera H. Seaton, Mrs. Kenneth Woods, Mrs. Donald Elson, Mrs. John Taylor, Margaret Jane Belzer, Mrs. John S. Wright and Mary Neuner, were introduced.

Democratic city candidates, John S. Wright, Miss Vera H. Seaton, John R. Phillips, and city committee chairman, Attorney M. Brooks Byus, were guests at the bingo party following the meeting.

Mrs. Lewis C. Gotschall was program chairman and Mrs. Byron Stewart, hostess chairman. Those assisting Mrs. Stewart were Mrs. Lillian Lair, Miss Anna Lucille Bove and Mayme Tobin.

Put Out Blaze In Custodian's Home At Memorial Lawn

The custodian's house at Memorial Lawn cemetery, several miles south of the city, was saved by the fire department Thursday after fire broke out in a utility room in the basement.

D. L. Roberts, who resides in the house, turned in an alarm to the fire department, and was told to keep the doors and windows closed tightly to prevent draft until the pumper arrived.

Firemen used a booster pump to put out the blaze which charred the floor of the utility room, and the door of the garage in the basement.

Mr. Roberts' car was driven out of the basement room before the department arrived. Damage was also held to a minimum on the main floor where members of the family moved furniture from the area under which the blaze was burning.

Lloyd M. Sheppard, residing several miles south of the city, pleaded guilty in county court Thursday to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, and was fined $100 and costs by Judge Fenstermaker. The defendant paid the fine and costs.

Sheppard was arraigned after an information had been filed by State's Attorney Albert Hall, charging that on Oct. 31, 1948, Sheppard committed an assault on Julio Jackino with a .22 rifle.

Jackino was struck and wounded by a rifle bullet while hunting ducks at Lake Jacksonville. He was under hospital treatment for some time after his injury.

Sheppard's home is not far from where Jackino was wounded, according to county officers who investigated the case.

Two Troops From School For Blind Man Rally Booths

Ten Boy Scouts from the Illinois School for the Blind were among the scouts from this area who attended the rally, "Scouting on Parade," Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Springfield arsenal.

Senior scouts include Bill Burns, Roger Lehnerr, Oliver Braddy, Jack Kallen and Eddie Jeffers. Wallace Comber, Robert Stephany, Donald Heiter, Jerry Galloway and William Chambers make up the other troop.

The I.S.B. troops had charge of two of the booths. The scouts displayed hand made products and worked on elementary and advanced basketry.

Accompanying the boys were Superintendent Lee J. Flood, Principal Jack Hartog, Clarence Richardson, faculty member, and Nellis Crane, scoutmaster.

Mrs. G. B. Goldsmith, the flag chairman, led in the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Sarjean Mathews Brown, one of the music chairmen, presented the musical section of the program. Richard Mills sang a group of solos. Later he was joined by Mrs. Patricia Doughty for several duet numbers. Mrs. Arthur Hecker was the accompanist.

Mrs. Paul Allyn, the program chairman, introduced Mrs. F. J. Friedli of Belleville, state chairman of the D.A.R. Ellis Island committee. She interestingly discussed the work among the immigrants, especially in the fields of occupational therapy. A group of handicraft specimens made by the patients there was exhibited.

Contributions to the Ellis Island fund were accepted.

Miss Virginia Boyle was elected a new member.

A social hour followed with Mrs. George Gabel and Mrs. R. I. Willard as hostesses. They were assisted by Miss Dorothy Goebel. Tea was served from an attractive table decorated by Valentine designs and lighted tapers. Mrs. Allyn and Mrs. Baxter poured.

The pledge of Allegiance, led by Mrs. Earl Rexroat opened the meeting which was conducted by Miss Hazel Strawn, president. Six new members, Miss Vera H. Seaton, Mrs. Kenneth Woods, Mrs. Donald Elson, Mrs. John Taylor, Margaret Jane Belzer, Mrs. John S. Wright and Mary Neuner, were introduced.

14 Escape South Main Apartment Fire When Aroused By Capt. Flynn

Fourteen adults and children were roused from sleep by Capt. Ike Flynn at 1:54 o'clock Thursday morning in time to escape from fire which threatened to destroy a two-story building at 214-16 South Main street.

Rushing upstairs when he detected smoke, Capt. Flynn pounded on the doors of three apartments until they were opened by occupants. Members of three families including several small children escaped from the smoke-filled rooms in their night clothing.

The officer carried a flashlight when he mounted the stairway. However, within a few minutes it was almost impossible to see in the heavy smoke.

Starts in Clothes Closet
Firemen used three lines of hose from two pumps to battle the blaze which started in a clothes closet at 216 1/2 South Main street, in an apartment that was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

Flames worked up to the roof, but were promptly cut off by firemen. Damage to the building from fire was not extensive, but there was considerable smoke and water damage.

Defective wiring is believed to have caused the blaze. The closet where it started is directly over the stairway.

The building, which houses the Sportsman's tavern and Mae's Cafe on the first floor, is owned by George Dorwart.

No Time to Dress
Fearing that the second floor occupants would be overcome by smoke or trapped on the stairway if seconds were lost, Capt. Flynn told all persons in the apartments to leave the building without taking time to dress.

Mothers threw blankets around themselves and children, some of whom were carried down the stairs to safety. Police cars took women and children to homes of relatives and friends.

Firemen fought the blaze at close range and within a few minutes had the situation under control. Chief Lonergan ordered the second crew to join in the job of putting out the fire.

Occupants Listed
Driven from their apartments were Mrs. Wanneita Haley and four children; Mrs. Helen White and three children and Mrs. Helen Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gresham and two children.

Although their apartments were damaged to some extent by water and smoke, they were able to move in again later Thursday morning.

The cafe operated by Mrs. Jesse Long on the first floor received considerable water and smoke damage. Smoke also penetrated the tavern operated by Richard Doyle.

The alarm was radioed by Capt. Flynn from a cruise car to the police station. This fact saved valuable time as no telephone was available nearby at that early hour.

Miss Virginia Walters, daughter of Mrs. Teresa Walters of Springfield, and Clyde R. Hull, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hull, were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony which took place Thursday afternoon in the rectory of the Church of Our Saviour.

The vows were received by the Rev. Father Raymond Franzen. Attending the couple were Miss Alice Walters of Springfield, sister of the bride, and Ed R. Hull of Springfield, the bridegroom's brother.

The bride was attired in a suit of winter white, with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Her sister wore a gray suit, with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. A blue gabardine suit with a corsage of red roses was worn by the bride's mother.

Mrs. Hull was graduated from Routh High school in 1945 and from Our Saviour's Hospital School of Nursing in 1948. She is employed at Our Saviour's hospital.

Mr. Hull served in the U. S. Navy for three years, 18 months of which time was spent overseas. Following his discharge, he resumed his studies at Jacksonville High school, graduating in 1947. He later attended Illinois College and is now employed at Sears, Roebuck.

After the ceremony a reception and dinner honoring the young couple was given at the Jay Cee restaurant. The couple then left on a short wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a brown gabardine suit.

Upon returning, Mr. and Mrs. Hull will be at home at 503 South Church street.

Scott Farm Bureau Membership Drive Now In Progress
Winchester—The Scott county Farm Bureau held a kick-off dinner at Lane's cafe Wednesday night starting a new membership drive which will last for one week and be concluded with a report meeting at the same place Feb. 16. ## Association To Hear Young Pianist Monday

Dorothy Eustis, a brilliant young American pianist, will be heard in Jacksonville by the members of the Civic Music Association in the third concert of the season which will take place at the Jacksonville high school auditorium at 8 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 14.

Miss Eustis was hailed as a "real virtuoso" by the music critic of the New York Times when she made her Town Hall debut in 1943.

After the spectacular success of her New York appearance, the Seattle-born young artist made a deep impression on the music world in solo appearances with the Los Angeles Symphony in the Hollywood Bowl under Szukowski, the Seattle Symphony under Sir Thomas Beecham, the Rochester Philharmonic under Jose Turbi, and the Detroit Symphony under Karl Krueger.

John Charles Thomas, the world-famous American baritone, was so impressed by her recitals that he invited her to share the platform during a tour of the West Coast. "It is my happy privilege to recommend Dorothy Eustis to the American public," Thomas said when he introduced her. "She is one of the most exciting young pianists of our time. In my opinion, she is destined for a great artist's career."

Miss Eustis comes from a family that early encouraged her music inclinations. She began playing the piano at the age of four, and at the age of 10 appeared with the Seattle Symphony Orchestra. She continued studying in the West, at the University of Washington and at Mills College. Miss Eustis later worked with Artur Schnabel in New York City.

The program Monday night will include Beethoven's sonata opus 27, and works by Scarlatti, Brahms, Chopin, Debussy, Scriabine, Ravel, Liszt, and Paganini.

'Date With Judy' Given Last Night By J.H.S. Juniors

"A Date With Judy," the engaging story of radio's Foster family, was enacted last night for a Jacksonville audience by local high school juniors. The play will be presented for a second time tonight at 8 p.m.

A revelation of what happens when two teen-agers compete for the title of queen by raising funds for community relief was appreciated by the first night audience, which consisted of about 700. The production centered around "ordinary people" carried out through the use of typical costumes and stage settings.

"Judy Foster" was interpreted by Esther Baptist; "Judy's father," Russell Heaton; "Judy's mother," Jean Thornton; "brother Randolph," Bill Devore; and "Oogie Pringle," Walter Dieckman.

Other cast members were: Rosalyn Nunes, Pamela Sims, Betty Jane Willard, Ben Nunes, Elynn McFadden, Marlene Dennis, Tommie Burks, Don Henderson, Reva Hunt and Bob Brown.

The play was under the direction of Miss Ann Russell Jones and the class adviser, Mrs. Erma E. Johnston.

$62.36 Collected In Meredith's March Of Dimes

With the closing of the March of Dimes campaign in Meredith, the chairman, Dr. J. R. Griener, announced that the total contributions received in the Meredith area amounted to $62.36.

Of this amount, $21.04 was obtained through the containers placed in the various business houses, $3.40 through the high school, and $32.92 through the theatre collections.

MORE EVIDENCE TO BE TAKEN IN SUIT

After hearing testimony Wednesday in the suit of Wilmalee Hadden against James E. Hadden, in which a counter-claim was filed, Judge Whitte continued the suit until next week when he will return on Wednesday to hear further evidence.

The court dismissed the separate maintenance suit brought by Mrs. Hadden, and began hearing evidence on a counter-claim brought by Mr. Hadden in asking for a decree of divorce.

A large number of witnesses testified Wednesday.

ATA DANCE
Friday, Feb. 11. Arcadia Hall. Ted Six orchestra. 8:30 to 12. Public invited.

FOX ROUND-UP
Sunday, Feb. 13. Meet 9 a.m. at Arcadia Store. Use no shot larger than No. 4, bring no rifles. Not responsible for accidents. Lunch will be served at noon.

Iowa Man Injured In Accident Near Ashland Thursday

Ashland—O. H. Samuelson of Fort Madison, Iowa, an employee of the Delano Granite Works, was seriously injured around 4 p.m. Thursday when his automobile crashed into the back of a truck driven by Ernest Riley, Pleasant Plains farmer. The accident occurred about one mile east of Ashland on route 125.

According to reports received here, both men were driving east when Riley, driving a long wheel base international truck loaded with hay, did not signal before making a left turn. Samuelson, with a 1948 Nash, apparently did not notice that the truck had slowed down and consequently struck the rear of the other vehicle.

The truck turned over several times and was badly wrecked. The car was completely demolished.

Rescue workers were forced to break the steering wheel to remove Samuelson, badly hurt but still conscious. After treatment by Dr. Carl Lind of Ashland, he was removed to St. John's hospital in Springfield. His condition was reported as serious.

Riley, although badly shaken, did not incur any injury.

Both men were driving alone.

Mission Society Of Westminster Elects Officers

On Tuesday, February 8th the missionary society of Westminster church held its annual mid-day luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. W. N. Harness on Grove street. The meeting was well attended. Mrs. Herbert Capps presided.

The morning session was opened with prayer. Miss Margaret Moore was in charge of the day's lesson and based her remarks on the final part of the mission study book now being used by the society "Twilight or Dawn in China," by Frank W. Price.

Miss Moore reviewed and enlarged upon the material found in the book and led in an interesting discussion on China.

At noon a bountiful luncheon was served and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Following luncheon Dr. Ewert conducted the devotional service. He reviewed in part Lieutenant Whitaker's address of Sunday evening. Dr. Ewert then led in prayer.
